State's Case In 'Mercy Killing' Nearing End

Surprise Witness Called Near Windup Of Morning Testimony

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 2—A medical colleague and neighbor of Dr. Hermann N. Sander quoted him today as saying that he gave an injection of air to a woman cancer patient whose eyes were "open and staring" before and after the operation.

The surprise witness called by the state near the windup of its "mercy killing" case against the popular 41-year-old physician was Dr. William J. King.

Dr. King comes from Candia, the village several miles outside Manchester where Dr. Sander also lives.

May Conclude Prosecution

Perhaps the last witness for the prosecution was called immediately afterward. He is Dr. Milton Helpern, chief medical examiner for New York City, who attended an autopsy on Dr. Sander's patient, Mrs. Abbie Borroto, six weeks after her death, December 4.

The state charges that Dr. Sander hastened Mrs. Borroto's end with the air bubble, while the defense has attempted to cast doubt that the woman was still alive at the time.

There has been no effort by the defense, so far, to deny the air injection was made.

Dr. King said no names were mentioned in his talk with Dr. Sander that occurred in the doctor's rest room at Elliott hospital in Manchester "sometime early in December."

Given Injection of Air

Dr. Sander brought up the case," said Dr. King. "He gave no names but he gave a short history of the case.

"He talked about a patient in the terminal end of a cancer case who

'Serious Public Emergency' Proclaimed In State Today

HARRISBURG, March 2.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today proclaimed a public emergency because of the coal shortage and at the same time blasted the national administration's "do-nothing" policy in the current fuel crisis.

He charged what he branded "political manipulation" in the emergency.

Municipal officials were urged to study community needs and prepare to distribute supplies "to protect public health and safety in this critical situation."

The governor, who has no legal basis to order any curbs, emphasied that Pennsylvania faces a "crisis of disastrous proportions" as a result of the soft coal strike.

No Law On Situation

"If I had the power as Governor of Pennsylvania to act, I would have done so long ago. Unfortunately there are no laws on the statute books of Pennsylvania permitting any action of the governor in this situation except on a purely voluntary and recommendation basis," Duff said.

"This situation is too serious to longer remain within the limits of political manipulation," he said. "It is a serious crisis and the time

Seek Light On Mystery In Death Of Navy Capt. Karpe

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—New light on the mysterious death of Navy Capt. Eugene S. Karpe was expected today with the questioning of Milburn Russell McKichan, the young American student who was Karpe's companion on the fabled Orient Express.

McKichan, termed the last friend of the naval attache to see him before his death in an Australian railway tunnel, landed in New York aboard the Queen Mary last night.

The 21-year-old Forest Grove, Ore., chemistry student was immediately the target of questions by both the FBI and the Army's Criminal Intelligence division.

The two chief clues to the student's whereabouts today were his leaving the Queen Mary's pier with his interrogators and his saying, according to a customs official, that he was going to Washington. A shipboard companion of young McKichan said that the chemistry student believed that Karpe was slain.

Five Are Dead In Home Fire

KENOSHA, Wis., March 2.—(INS)—A family of five, including three young children, burned to death early today when fire destroyed their 2-room tar-paper shack in a trailer camp near Kenosha.

Sheriff's deputy Chester K. Strande tentatively identified the victims as Carrol Maxwell, about 28; his wife, Betty, 26, and three children, Jimmy, about 4; Steve, about 2, and Patricia, two months.

The bodies were burned beyond recognition and the 16 by 23-foot shack, only three-quarters roofed, was destroyed.

Firemen from Kenosha and Pleasant Prairie fought the blaze in eight-below-zero temperatures to keep it from spreading to 30 trailers in the camp.

Neighbors said the tiny home was heated by an oilburner which had been "giving the family trouble" recently.

New Arrests Are Expected In Fuchs Case

Large Shake-Up In Britain's Security Set-Up Indicated

By CHARLES A SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Mar. 2.—A large-scale shake-up in Britain's security establishments, and new arrests, were predicted today as a result of revelations by Atom Scientist Dr. Klaus Fuchs.

Belief was general that more arrests can be expected shortly, possibly in the United States as well as Britain, on the basis of information supplied to officials by Fuchs, who professed a desire in court to atone for his crimes.

Aid Is Given

Fuch's counsel told the court before the sentencing that the scientist had given British officials "valuable practical assistance" which will aid in tracking down those to whom Fuchs gave secrets.

The British press was filled with speculation that the government's security organizations will be subjected to a thorough overhauling despite additional widespread precautions put in effect when the Fuchs case came to light.

Fuchs, who confessed his guilt yesterday to giving Russia vital atomic secrets and immediately was sentenced to 14 years in prison, meanwhile remained lodged in Brixton prison where he was returned at the conclusion of his 90-minute trial.

Probably the German-born British scientist will be transferred sometime today or tomorrow to a permanent prison. Best information is that Fuchs will be sent either to Maidstone prison, in Kent County, or Parkhurst prison, near Newport, Isle of Wight.

The baby was sleeping on the first floor with her parents.

The stove explosion showered the kitchen and adjacent rooms with flaming oil. Smith was roused by the blast and attempted to lead his wife to safety, but was unable to unlock a storm door.

The father shattered the glass in the door and carried his wife outside. Although he was severely injured, Smith ran back into the house in a vain attempt to save the rest of the family.

Neighbors, summoned by the screams of Mrs. Smith, broke windows and tried to get into the flaming home where they could hear Smith moving about.

The heroic father was overcome by smoke as he tried to reach a stairway to the second floor.

Court Ruling Handed Down This Afternoon

Next Move In Coal Strike Expected From President

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The United Mine Workers Union was acquitted today on both civil and criminal contempt charges that it had failed to obey a court order to end the nation-wide soft coal strike.

The ruling was handed down by Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech at 12:48 p. m., EST.

Keech said he found the union not guilty of either civil or criminal contempt.

Lift Threat Of Fines

The decision immediately lifted from the union the threat of nuge fines for continuance of the crippling mine shutdown.

Keech's ruling meant that the jurist believed the United Mine Workers had complied with his order issued February 11 to end the strike.

UMW President John L. Lewis sent out two back-to-work instructions to the 370,000 strikers in compliance with the court stop-strike order but the miners ignored his directives.

Will Be Appealed

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison indicated there would be an appeal from Keech's ruling. Ask if there would be a "next step" he told reporters.

"Undoubtedly there will."

Welly K. Hopkins, UCW counsel, said his only comment was that "I think there has been a fair trial and an equitable hearing held."

Hopkins was congratulated by numerous union officials.

Government sources appeared surprised at the judge's decision.

Morison indicated that an appeal is possible only on the civil contempt citation. He and his associates left the courtroom, ostensibly for the Justice department.

No Wilful Contempt

In a four-page written opinion, Keech said the evidence of the union's three-day trial did not prove there had been wilful contempt of the court anti-strike order. Keech said:

"It may be that the mass strike of union members has been ordered, encouraged, recommended, instructed, induced, or in somewise permitted by means not appearing

Johnson transmitted only one chapter of his report, that concerning economy, to the House and

Court Ruling Handed Down This Afternoon

Next Move In Coal Strike Expected From President

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The United Mine Workers Union was acquitted today on both civil and criminal contempt charges that it had failed to obey a court order to end the nation-wide soft coal strike.

The ruling was handed down by Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech at 12:48 p. m., EST.

Keech said he found the union not guilty of either civil or criminal contempt.

Lift Threat Of Fines

The decision immediately lifted from the union the threat of huge fines for continuance of the crippling mine shutdown.

Keech's ruling meant that the jurist believed the United Mine Workers had complied with his order issued February 11 to end the strike.

UMW President John L. Lewis sent out two back-to-work instructions to the 370,000 strikers in compliance with the court stop-strike order but the miners ignored his directives.

Will Be Appealed

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison indicated there would be an appeal from Keech's ruling. Ask if there would be a "next step" he told reporters.

"Undoubtedly there will."

Welly K. Hopkins, UCW counsel, said his only comment was that "I think there has been a fair trial and an equitable hearing held."

Hopkins was congratulated by numerous union officials.

Government sources appeared surprised at the judge's decision.

Morison indicated that an appeal is possible only on the civil contempt citation. He and his associates left the courtroom, ostensibly for the Justice department.

No Wilful Contempt

In a four-page written opinion, Keech said the evidence of the union's three-day trial did not prove there had been wilful contempt of the court anti-strike order. Keech said:

"It may be that the mass strike of union members has been ordered, encouraged, recommended, instructed, induced, or in somewise permitted by means not appearing

Let the spring come on as soon as it will, let the sun warm the meadow and glade, let the mercury rise as soon as it wants, and give us the sun and the shade. I've ordered my seeds for the garden this year, a list as long as your arm, for I want to be ready when May comes around to get started on working the farm. Tomatoes and lettuce and sweet corn and kale, so winter get out of the way, the seed list is ordered and soon should be here and it's cold 21 today.

at frequent intervals for the past four years, that the door is open to any head of state who will come to Washington to discuss world peace in good faith.

Proposal Injected

The proposal for peace talks with the Soviet Union was again injected into the Truman news conference by questions concerning the renewal of Sen. McMahon of his suggestion that some new effort be made by the United States to meet with Premier Stalin and outlaw atomic weapons.

Sen. McMahon spoke at length on this theme in the Senate yesterday. The President was asked, "Do you think Sen. MaMahon's proposals are feasible?"

The President said that he had no comment. Then, after a moment, he added:

"I think I've made it perfectly plain that I'm not going to Moscow, now or ever."

Mr. Truman went on to say that the door is open in Washington to anyone who wants to come here and talk about peace.

CHURCH ADVANCE PROGRAM OPENS

in the first service of the 12 day Methodist advance with Dr. Morris in charge of the evening program. Adding to the beauty of the service was the singing of the union robed choir under the direction of Mrs. Anna Pyle and Edwin Lewis.

Leonard Blasdell of the Mahoning church offered the opening prayer followed by congregational singing. Rev. J. A. Gaiser led in the Scripture reading with James Snow of Croton church giving the evening prayer. The offeratory was sung by the union choir group.

Dr. Humbert Speaks

Dr. Morris introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Russell J. Humbert, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Youngstown, who chose for his timely theme "Confidence Without Complacency."

The speaker stated that the world today is walking a tight rope between two chasms, confidence and complacency with cockiness on one side and over confidence on the other. He pointed out the ever present danger of complacency, the disease of indifference and the disease of indecision. He told his listeners that we need to do some straight thinking in this day and age.

On the positive side Dr. Humbert showed that man needs an experience with God which brings faith and confidence. The basic ignorance of America is not moral but economic, he revaled. He challenged his audience closing that they should not be afraid to take the long look into the future. "Alert today, alive tomorrow" Dr. Humber concluded.

The evangelistic advance moves on this evening to the Pulaski Methodist church with Rev. J. A. Gaiser as the speaker and the host church choir providing the special music. Friday evening the service moves to Wesley Methodist church with Rev. F. P Sulmonetti as speaker. A different pastor will be heard each evening.

At last evening's dniner, Dr. W. A. Womer graciously provided for the speakers table with women of the First church serving the meal. The St. Patrick Day motif was carried out in the appointments.

DEFENSE SECRETARY JOHNSON TELLS CONGRESS OF SAVINGS

Senate Armed Services and Appripriations committees. The rest is to be submitted later.

List of Savings

He presented a list of 47 separate "savings and reductions" totaling $1,592,093,000 a year.

Largest savings was the dismissal of 137,000 civilian employes of military establishments. Johnson said this saved $200,000,000 in the current fiscal year and will save more than $500,000,000 anually.

The biggest reduction lopped $306,000,000 from aircraft purchasing — $180,000,000 from the air force program and $126,000,000 from naval aviation.

Johnson said, however, that the cut in aircraft purchasing would have been $200,000,000 dollars more if he had not restored some of the reductions in the first proposed budget submitted to the White House last August.

He continued:

"Because of saving and economy, plans for fiscal 1951 have been modified to provide significantly more powerful military forces.

'SERIOUS PUBLIC EMERGENCY' IN STATE

has come for the federal government to act."

Duff said that although he has no legal power as governor to enforce any regulations, he does have the responsibility to proclaim a serious public emergency.

"I therefore suggest that the mayors, burgesses and heads of various township commissioners of the state immediately accept the responsibility of setting up a voluntary organiation in each of their respective municipalities to study how best to meet this serious crisis," he declared.

PRESIDENT SAYS HE WILL NEVER GO TO MOSCOW

at frequent intervals for the past four years, that the door is open to any head of state who will come to Washington to discuss world peace in good faith.

Proposal Injected

The proposal for peace talks with the Soviet Union was again injected into the Truman news conference by questions concerning the renewal of Sen. McMahon of his suggestion that some new effort be made by the United States to meet with Premier Stalin and outlaw atomic weapons.

Sen. McMahon spoke at length on this theme in the Senate yesterday. The President was asked, "Do you think Sen. MaMahon's proposals are feasible?"

The President said that he had no comment. Then, after a moment, he added:

"I think I've made it perfectly plain that I'm not going to Moscow, now or ever.

Mr. Truman went on to say that the door is open in Washington to anyone who wants to come here and talk about peace.

in the first service of the 12 day Methodist advance with Dr. Morris in charge of the evening program. Adding to the beauty of the service was the singing of the union robed choir under the direction of Mrs. Anna Pyle and Edwin Lewis.

Leonard Blasdell of the Mahoning church offered the opening prayer followed by congregational singing. Rev. J. A. Gaiser led in the Scripture reading with James Snow of Croton church giving the evening prayer. The offeratory was sung by the union choir group.

Dr. Morris introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Russell J. Humbert, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Youngstown, who chose for his timely theme "Confidence Without Complacency."

The speaker stated that the world today is walking a tight rope between two chasms, confidence and complacency with cockiness on one side and over confidence on the other. He pointed out the ever present danger of complacency, the disease of indifference and the disease of indecision. He told his listeners that we need to do some straight thinking in this day and age.

On the positive side Dr. Humbert showed that man needs an experience with God which brings faith and confidence. The basic ignorance of America is not moral but economic, he revaled. He challenged his audience closing that they should not be afraid to take the long look into the future. "Alert today, alive tomorrow" Dr. Humber concluded.

The evangelistic advance moves on this evening to the Pulaski Methodist church with Rev. J. A. Gaiser as the speaker and the host church choir providing the special music. Friday evening the service moves to Wesley Methodist church with Rev. F. P Sulmonetti as speaker. A different pastor will be heard each evening.

At last evening's dniner, Dr. W. A. Womer graciously provided for the speakers table with women of the First church serving the meal. The St. Patrick Day motif was carried out in the appointments.

Senate Armed Services and Appropriations committees. The rest is to be submitted later.

List of Savings

He presented a list of 47 separate "savings and reductions" totaling $1,592,093,000 a year.

Largest savings was the dismissal of 157,000 civilian employes of military establishments. Johnson said this saved $200,000,000 in the current fiscal year and will save more than $500,000,000 anually.

The biggest reduction lopped $306,000,000 from aircraft purchasing — $180,000,000 from the air force program and $126,000,000 from naval aviation.

Johnson said, however, that the cut in aircraft purchasing would have been $200,000,000 dollars more if he had not restored some of the reductions in the first proposed budget submitted to the White House last August.

He continued:

"Because of saving and economy, plans for fiscal 1951 have been modified to provide significantly more powerful military forces.

'SERIOUS PUBLIC EMERGENCY' IN STATE

Duff said that although he has no legal power as governor to enforce any regulations, he does have the responsibility to proclaim a serious public emergency.

"I therefore suggest that the mayors, burgesses and heads of various township commissioners of the state immediately accept the responsibility of setting up a voluntary organiation in each of their respective municipalities to study how best to meet this serious crisis," he declared.

Representing the various garden clubs of the county, a large number of ladies were present to enjoy the monthly luncheon meeting of the Garden Council of Lawrence County Wednesday afternoon in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church.

Lawrence County Garden club, as the hostess club, planned a delightful afternoon program. A dainty luncheon was the initial event of the day with Mrs. John Elliott, president of the Lawrence County Garden club, presiding at the silver tea service. A colorful St. Patrick's day theme predominated in the appointments with the appropriate centerpiece being provided by Mrs. John Loudon. Hostesses were Mrs. Loudon and Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Elliott read the club creed and introduced Charles Andrews of the Bell Telephone company who showed films to the group. "Wintertime in Sun Valley" and "Yellowstone Park" made the audience long for a journey to these beautiful vacation land spots. Arranging the entertaining program were Mrs. Otto Pearsall, program chairman; Mrs. William Berkstresser and Mrs. Edward Everett.

MUSIC CLUB ENJOYS ANIMATED PROGRAM

The Music Club of New Castle met in the Highland U. P. church on Tuesday, Feb. 28, for a program which was a departure from their usual serious music.

Composers represented were not the old masters, Bach, Beethoven and Brahms. They were Rogers and Hart, Oscar Hammerstein, Irving Berlin and other modern masters of musical comedy. Songs from such shows as "South Pacific", "Annie Get Your Gun", "Show Boat" and "Oklahoma" were refreshingly good listening when sung by trained voices in this program entitled "Highlights of Musical Comedy".

Singers were: sopranos, Miss Lena Mae McConnell and Mrs. Dorothy Perdue; altos, Miss Connie Branstetter and Mrs. Louis Walls; tenors, Walter Luikhart, Darl Wylie of Westminster college substituting for Earl Hammond who was ill; bass, Harry Spence and Delbert Fletcher. All the accompaniments were played by Mrs. Jacob Jordan, including one which she transcribed from a recording, a difficult feat.

The group was under the direction of Delbert Fletcher, whose staging and business direction were a delightful innovation on the Music Club stage.

The drab austerity of the meeting room was transformed by long colorful banners bearing the titles of the songs, each with appropriate designs painted in cartoon style by Mrs. Delbert Fletcher. Highlight of the performance was a hilarious duet called "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better" sung in a mood of mean rivalry by Miss McConnell and Mr. Fletcher.

The audience was vociferously enthusiastic, many "going through the line" twice to congratulate the performers. The use of group numbers, costumes, make-up and scenery was a welcome variation in Music Club customs. The audience was augmented by many guests.

Ushering for the evening were Mrs. Maureen Van Gorder, Miss June Stokes and Miss Mary Louise Griffith.

During the business meeting a new member was accepted—Mr. J Dale Gibson, a bass baritone who is now a solo active member. For his tryout he sang "On the Road to Mandalay" and "It Is Enuf" from "Elijah".

Mrs. Jacob Jordan, program chairman for next year, presented her program plans for 1950-1951 to the executive board. It is an ambitious and challenging plan which promises many interesting nights of high quality music.

Mrs. James W. Moorehead announced that rehearsals of the Music Club chorus are being held in the Y. W. C. A. on Mondays at 7:30. All singers are welcome to help sing the "Elijah".

Miss Barbara Schulz, Mrs. William J. Caldwell and Mrs. Jay L. Reed were selected as the nominating committee and are to give their report next month. The meeting for April will start at 8:30 instead of 8:00 due to conflicting meetings in the church.

GARDEN COUNCIL HAS PLEASING AFTERNOON

Representing the various garden clubs of the county, a large number of ladies were present to enjoy the monthly luncheon meeting of the Garden Council of Lawrence County Wednesday afternoon in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church.

Lawrence County Garden club, as the hostess club, planned a delightful afternoon program. A dainty luncheon was the initial event of the day with Mrs. John Elliott, president of the Lawrence County Garden club, presiding at the silver tea service. A colorful St. Patrick's day theme predominated in the appointments with the appropriate centerpiece being provided by Mrs. John Loudon. Hostesses were Mrs. Loudon and Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Elliott read the club creed and introduced Charles Andrews of the Bell Telephone company who showed films to the group. "Wintertime in Sun Valley" and "Yellowstone Park" made the audience long for a journey to these beautiful vacation land spots. Arranging the entertaining program were Mrs. Otto Pearsall, program chairman; Mrs. William Berkstresser and Mrs. Edward Everett.

Mrs. Richard Marquis, council president, presided over the business session. Mrs. J. W. Moorehead was chairman of the committee for revising the constitution and by-laws of the club, which were approved and adopted by the members. On her committee were Mrs. Lyle Hughes and Mrs. Richard Marquis.

Reminiscent of approaching springtime, many lovely flower arrangements and plant displays were brought yesterday by the members. Winning recognition in the flower arrangement display were: first, Mrs. John Elliott; second, Mrs. W. C. Hileman, Walmo Garden club; third, Mrs. Roland Peden, Oakwood Garden club; fourth, Mrs. Roland Peden; fifth, Mrs. Jesse Shaffer, Mahoningtown Garden club.

Honors for the display of houseplants went to: first, Mrs. T. A. Clark, Lawrence County Garden club; second, Mrs. Ray Zeigler, Mahoningtown Garden club; third, Mrs. Ray Zeigler; fourth, Mrs. A. C. Dietterle, Conservation and Garden department of Woman's club; fifth, Mrs. John Loudon, Lawrence County Garden club.

Hostess club for the April meeting will be the Harlansburg club which is planning a special fund raising event to take place at that time.

Eight Spots Club

Mrs. Lester Gibson, of Ridgelawn avenue, was hostess to members of the Eight Spots club on Wednesday evening.

Canasta was the diversion for the evening, with high score trophies captured by Mrs. Donald Withers and Mrs. Howard Tindal.

Dainty refreshments were served later by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Donald Withers, 308 North Shenango street, March 15.

MUSIC CLUB ENJOYS ANIMATED PROGRAM

The Music Club of New Castle met in the Highland U. P. church on Tuesday, Feb. 28, for a program which was a departure from their usual serious music.

Composers represented were not the old masters, Bach, Beethoven and Brahms. They were Rogers and Hart, Oscar Hammerstein, Irving Berlin and other modern masters of musical comedy. Songs from such shows as "South Pacific", "Annie Get Your Gun", "Show Boat" and "Oklahoma" were refreshingly good listening when sung by trained voices in this program entitled "Highlights of Musical Comedy".

Singers were: sopranos, Miss Lena Mae McConnell and Mrs. Dorothy Perdue; altos, Miss Connie Branstetter and Mrs. Louis Walls; tenors, Walter Luikhart, Darl Wylie of Westminster college substituting for Earl Hammond who was ill; bass, Harry Spence and Delbert Fletcher. All the accompaniments were played by Mrs. Jacob Jordan, including one which she transcribed from a recording, a difficult feat.

The group was under the direction of Delbert Fletcher, whose staging and business direction were a delightful innovation on the Music Club stage.

The drab austerity of the meeting room was transformed by long colorful banners bearing the titles of the songs, each with appropriate designs painted in cartoon style by Mrs. Delbert Fletcher. Highlight of the performance was a hilarious duet called "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better" sung in a mood of mean rivalry by Miss McConnell and Mr. Fletcher.

The audience was vociferously enthusiastic, many "going through the line" twice to congratulate the performers. The use of group numbers, costumes, make-up and scenery was a welcome variation in Music Club customs. The audience was augmented by many guests.

Ushering for the evening were Mrs. Maureen Van Gorder, Miss June Stokes and Miss Mary Louise Griffith.

During the business meeting a new member was accepted—Mr. J Dale Gibson, a bass baritone who is now a solo active member. For his tryout he sang "On the Road to Mandalay" and "It Is Enuf" from "Eliiah".

Mrs. Jacob Jordan, program chairman for next year, presented her program plans for 1950-1951 to the executive board. It is an ambitious and challenging plan which promises many interesting nights of high quality music.

Mrs. James W. Moorehead announced that rehearsals of the Music Club chorus are being held in the Y. W. C. A. on Mondays at 7:30. All singers are welcome to help sing the "Elijah".

Miss Barbara Schulz, Mrs. William J. Caldwell and Mrs. Jay L. Reed were selected as the nominating committee and are to give their report next month. The meeting for April will start at 8:30 instead of 8:00 due to conflicting meetings in the church.

PRITCHETT-GREENE EXCHANGE OF VOWS

Miss Thelma Grace Pritchett of R. D. 2, Wampum, became the bride of Trellis Quentin Greene of 1078 Hubbard road, Youngstown, O. Marriage vows were exchanged on Friday, February 24, at the home of Rev. John L. Petrie, New Castle, at 6:45 o'clock. The double ring service was used.

The bride was attractively attired in a fashionable navy blue street length dress with pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Greene will reside at R. D. 2, Wampum. Mrs. Greene is a teacher at West Pittsburg, while the groom is employed as a truck driver for the Lake Shore Freight company of Youngstown.

MARJORIE THAYER ENGAGED TO WED

Mr. and Mrs. Lester V. Thayer, R. D. 9, New Castle, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Jean Thayer, to Murray A. Pyle, 110 South Crawford avenue, son of Mrs. William Yarman of Florida.

Miss Thayer makes her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCann, 913 West Clayton street. No date has been set for the wedding.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess and Paula's aunt, Mrs. Stella Mangino, and Mrs. Helen Padice. A lovely birthday cake graced the table. There were favors in the form of miniature baskets of candy, with names, at each place. The kiddies sang "Happy Birthday".

The honored guest received many beautiful gifts and a purse of money.

Mrs. Elizabeth Welther and Mrs. William Sims were in charge of dinner arrangements. The occasion honored the ladies who have been faithful in giving their services for various dinners.

Prayer was offered by Rev. O. J. Warnath, followed by a business meeting. Plans were made for a mother-daughter banquet to be held in thhe near future. Complete arrangements will be announced later.

Several new members were welcomed into the society. The next meeting is scheduled for April 5 at the church.

WHAT THIS COUNTRY NEEDS

Grave assumptions apparently emanating from the Treasury Department that the "nickle is losing its popularity" seem a wrong slant on the reported decline in public demand for the famous fice-cent pieces.

The nickel is as "popular" in the sense of retaining our affections as it ever was. But there is not nearly so much to be accomplished with the coin as in happier days. The five-cent cigar of Tom Marshall allusion is a memory. And where can one ride for that modest sum in a street car? There are parking meters, but the thrifty use pennies in them whenever possible.

Some chewing gum, perhaps a few candy bars, a newspaper and very few other things, can be got for a nickel. There was a time when a small boy would cheerfully run an errand for five cents—but not now.

But don't dismiss or disparage the nickel—build it up. A few fundamentals like Governmental economy and less deficit financing would help. What this country needs is more nickels—that would buy more.

CAN'T BUY UTOPIA OVERNIGHT

A New York Herald-Tribune editorial discusses the government's proposed vast social security program with its emphasis on protection against loss of income for the ill and unemployed, better housing for the people, better health and medical care, an insured income for the aged, and the rest of it. It then says: "No one disputes the desirability of the goals, no one doubts that the American system has within itself the power to attain them to a degree known to no other nation. But to achieve them demands more than mere faith, more than a political formula, more than the denunciation of 'reactionaries'. . .The program which Mr. Truman puts forth. . .is as complicated, difficult and costly as anything which could well be imagined. Combined with the vast commitments for defense and foreign aid which the United States has undertaken, it would constitute a crushing burden on the productive energies of America. This is not what 'the will of the people' demanded, nor what Mr. Truman told the voters in the 1948 campaign. He spoke then, and he speaks now, as if a goal has only to be stated in legislation to be won, painlessly and finally. The experience of too many countries with this kind of wishful thinking, however, has proved to be futile and dangerous."

What the Herald-Tribune is saying, in essence, is that men of good will, impatient to immediately attain some great end, have unwittingly created economic ruin for millions. In no country in the world has the life of the masses of people been so greatly improved as in ours. That life will, in the normal course of events, get better, happier, more secure. But if we try to buy utopia overnight, the consequences will be disastrous.

WILL GAIN HERE, TOO

That socialism is fighting a losing battle can hardly be doubted now that England has followed Australia and New Zealand in reining in the wild followers of Karl Marx who, a few months ago, were galloping for collectivism.

The radio mouthpieces and the Washington smart boys of the "liberal" press in this country have never squirmed as they are squirming now in "explaining" that what happens elsewhere in the world will have absolutely no effect on election returns in the United States. Until the eve of the British election they had emitted a different squeal.

But the gloom that pervades leftist ranks in the United States—in and out of Congress and other government circles—leaves no doubt that a blow has been dealt to the spenders, the controllers and the taxers on this side of the big pond.

Conservatives in the United States, in both political parties, have been given a lift to their morale such as they have not experienced since the elections of 1946 in this country. The nation's economy again facing paralysis caused by uncalled-for strikes, the American people, according to many indications, have decided it's time to call the hands of the bottom-of-the-deck dealers.

There is only one danger—over-confidence. The British conservatives fought a great battle to the last minute. They did not win a majority in the House of Commons, but they came so close to it that the decline in strength of the laborites constitutes a stunning defeat for that group and effectively stops it from engaging in any new efforts.

Churchill, in his final speech, called upon the British people to "spit the laborites out." That is the sort of campaigning against the American leftists that is needed.

Wealth may not bring happiness, but it seems to bring a pleasant kind of misery.

There's many a man who doesn't have to be told by a doctor to lay off that snow shovel.

Difficulties Facing Western Allies

The almost insuperable difficulties of the Western Allies in bringing about some permanent solution of the German problem were underlined again today.

John J. McCloy, United States high commissioner for Germany who is returning to Washington from Berlin on Friday to testify before a Senate committee, has called attention to the fact that the eastern zone of the Reich is going to have an "election" the October.

He made clear that this will be the diametric opposite of political balloting as it is known in the United States and as it was demonstrated in Great Britain last week.

Vote Yes or No

The Eastern Germans, on the other hand, will be compelled to vote merely "yes" or "no" for a single slate of Communist candidates.

As usual, in the case of all Soviet-controlled areas, there is expected to be a certain amount of duress. In any case, the citizens know they will face ostracism or worse if they take any material means of showing opposition to the Communist regime.

One of the major difficulties in obtaining Germany unity on Democratic lines, which is what the Western Allies want, lies in the fact that the longer Eastern Germay lies under Soviet control, the harder it will be to instill Democratic ideals among the people.

The elections in Western Germany headed by Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer seems to be carrying on with a minimum of trouble although charges of "Neo-Nazism" still are heard from the Social Democrats.

Emphasizes Sham

McCloy has emphasized the "sham" inherent in Communist-type elections.

These are, of course, on the same pattern as those held in Germany during the Nazi days when 99 per cent of the population voted "ya" for the single list of Brownshirt candidates presented by the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin or the Braunhaus in Munich.

A fundamental point underlying McCloy's denunciation of eastern methods is the simple fact that the eastern Germans simply are being encouraged if not compelled to do what they have done since 1933.

And the longer the habit continues, the harder it will be to break.

Britain's controversial election—in many respects was one of the most historic developments in the twentieth century—has a unique place in retrospect in connection with the scheduled autumn elections in Germany.

Assuming that German voters living under Communist rule will vote preponderantly for the Communist candidates, the Kremlin is provided immediately with an invaluable piece of propaganda.

Britain Aids Argument

What happened in Britain—the emergency of Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Labor government with a tenuous majority that might mean defeat at any moment—gives new life and surface validity to one of the strongest arguments in the totalitarian dictionary.

This is the claim that the Western Democratic system of government is undependable and transitory.

Time and again Adolf Hitler said that he could not risk anything in the nature of a permanent agreement with the governments of France or Great Britain because he never could be sure when they might be thrown out of office on a non-confidence vote.

Communist propagandists have said the same sort of thing in reference to their own regime in Moscow. They point to the fact that what they call the "people's state" has been in control of the country, virtually unopposed, since Stalin took power.

Out of Place

It would be out of place, of course, for these spokesmen to imply by any word or gesture what has made this unbroken maintenance of a police state possible.

But it is simple to understand how the great masses of the Soviet population, still struggling with illiteracy and sub-standard living conditions, can be lulled into a belief that theirs is the only solid, substantial, unassailable structure in a changing world.

McCloy's evidence in Washington may throw some interesting new light on the methods being used by the Soviets today in their determined attempts to make Eastern Germany a 100 per cent satellite of the Kremlin. Whether it will result in any Democratic resurgence in the areas under Moscow's control is quite another thing altogether.

Folks Of Fame

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was born in Swabia, Germany, in 1891, and educated for military service at Stuttgart. He served in the German army as a lieutenant in World War I, and later, when Adolf Hitler rose to power, he became a member of the National Socialist party. At one time it is said he was head of the S. S., Hitler's Elite Guard. During Hitler's invasion of central Europe in World War II, he served successively as commandant of field headquarters in Austria, the Sudetenland and Poland. The tank divisions under his command in 1940 played a substantial part in German victory in France. In 1941 he was placed in charge of the German Afrika Korps, then fighting in Libya. By 1942 he had retaken Tobruk from the British and driven the British Eighth army back to El Alamein, Egypt. The British counter-attack, however, drove his army back to Tunisia and later to surrender. He was called the "Desert Fox", and he died in 1944 in Germany.

Lou Tellegen was born in southern Holland Nov. 26, 1885, but authorities do not say where. His father was Greek, his mother Dutch. He was a matinee idol of his day—a "perfect lover", it was said. He was once married to the now retired opera singer, Geraldine Farrar. He was brought up by a strict tutor, who taught him the art of fencing. In his youth he was by turns a baker, circus performer, sculptor's model, sculptor, prizefighter, playwright and actor. He was one time leading man for Sarah Bernhardt and other famous actresses. He also made productions for the screen, as actor and was a director. He did No Other Woman there for one of the well known film companies. Failing health in his later years caused him to take his own life in Hollywood Oct. 28, 1934.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ANIMATED BOOKS ARE FUN

Animals acting as persons are very popular with children, and the more whimsical these animals the more they may be enjoyed. But if you walked into a classroom of the first or second grade of almost any school in the United States, you would hardly find a reader with animated animal stories in it. School books for young children usually lag in fashion several years behind "trade" books such as are bought from the modern book store or found among new books of the public library.

But if you will examine the school readers of about thirty years ago you will find them made up chiefly of animals that talk.

Rapid Development

But parallel with the rapid development of the kindergarten in the early part of this century, and later, of the nursery school there developed widely the notion among educators that young children should be given facts instead of fancies, that if they heard or read stories of animals which act as persons they would get all mixed up mentally and emotionally, later, when faced with scientific facts. For like reason, fables and fairy tales were frowned upon. Instead, the here-and-now story became the model for years (and still is, in the current school reader). As a result, little children were growing up with starved imagination. I should add that, even to this date, the accumulating studies in child development have pretty generally ignored creative imagination.

During the "dark" years of the twenties and thirties some rather distinguished leaders in selection and evaluation of literature for young children used to poke fun at Mrs. Myers and me for reading so many stories of animated animals, and other fanciful yarns to our own children when they were very young; and for urging teachers (I was then at teachers training) to expose children to such literature.

Nevertheless, during that period and since, as my readers may know, I have never ceased to plead in this column, in my books, in the university classroom, and from the public platform for bringing back animated animal stories and folk lore for young children. Naturally, I gain some satisfaction in seeing wings of imagination now gathering in little children's sky.

Washington Calling

Spectacular California Campaign

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Nothing that California ever does is on a scale less than supercolossal, whether it's movie spectacles or weather, good and bad. That goes double for the political campaign just now coming up.

In the primary representative Helen Gahagan Douglas is setting out to defeat Senator Sheridan Downey who is running for a third term. From her career on the stage Mrs. Douglas brings to politics the intensity of a highly dramatic temperament and an energy that could have developed only in the atmosphere that produces those giant geraniums and sunkist starlets.

Already Mrs. Douglas has campaigned once up and down the Pacific slope, from the north with its redwood forests to the date palm groves of the south. Now she is starting out again for another sweep and the reports are that the lady is drawing large houses at almost every appearance.

Once A Ham-And-Egger

Downey was once a ham-and-egger in the classic California tradition, with bigger and better pensions every other Thursday. He is also an orator of great persuasion. In late years the Senator has become deeply involved in a quarrel over California's fabulous central valley with its far-flung irrigation system supporting highly profitable specialized farming.

The quarrel promises to be the center ring in the primary circus. Mrs. Douglas and her adherents in the liberal-labor-left wing of the Democratic party charge Downey with selling out to private power and agricultural interests and in league with hem throttling the development of the state.

On his side Downey charges a conspiracy directed from Washington to control the valley. He has written a whole book about it and made innumerable speeches. His chief target in the capital is Commissioner of Reclamation Michael W. Straus. In the course of several Congressional hearings Downey charged that Straus and former Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes connived to force out Straus' predecessor, Harry Bashore.

Ickes Gets Into Act

It is at this point that Ickes, himself, the old warrior, gets into the act. Called to testify last fall, he accused Downey of "unabashed perjury" and read from his diary to document his statement that he had pleaded several times with Bashore to stay on. Curiosuly enough, the record of this testimony has never been printed.

Ickes will in all likelihood go out to California as the contest waxes hotter to campaign for Mrs. Douglas. As one of friends put it, he's complaining about going way out there at his age but if you ask me, it would take the Marine Corps to keep him out of that fight." As he proved once again in 1948 when he added the only touches of humor to a grim campaign, Ickes is a devastating opponent.

In the Democratic governorship primary, James Roosevelt, eldest son of FDR, is the only important contender. In fact, if Roosevelt had a conservative opponent in his own party, he would be better off.

Third Term Candidate

Governor Earl Warren is a candidate for a third term and he will file both in the Republican primary to which he belongs, and in the Democratic primary. Under the wacky California system party lines are crossed as though they did not exist. The expectation is that conservative Democrats, who deeply resent Jimmy Roosevelt, will vote for Warren in the Democratic primary.

Warren's popularity in the state is an impressive fact. The Republican hope is that the governor, in spite of an unprecedented third term, will pull the whole ticket through. In the Senate race the leading contender is Representative Richard M. Nixon, chiefly distinguished for his part in getting the Hiss case into the courts. But he has a fairly formidable opponent in Fred Hauser, judge of the superior court of Los Angeles.

The primary election is on June 6. Almost anything can happen on that date and probably will. In the meantime, Californians will be treated to such a contest of glamour, brains, oratory and just plain politics as has rarely been seen.

One Man's Opinion

There was no particular opposition to the return of Chiang as president of China . . . here's a country where not even a Republican would want the job.

But I thought it was a little cruel of the Communists to wire "Have you been away?"

The fellow who was supposed to be president came to New York, liked the bus service and stayed.

It was a little confusing there for a while when the president of China was in New York, the mayor of New York was in Key Largo and for all I know the Mayor of Key Largo was in Shanghai.

Finally O'Dwyer came home and announced that he would be with us 'till his next vacation but the president of China still refuses to be drafted for service overseas.

He is a sick man and when he reads the despatches from home they don't convalesce him any.

Well good luck anyway President Chiang, you're at least as solid in office as Premier Attlee.

People are interested in their home town . . . a number have called in and commented about the Clendenin Building . . . when it was built . . . we think that now we have the correct date. George Z. Miller tells us that the main part of the building was built in 1848 by Robert W. Clendenin . . . the size of that construction was 60x90. Purpose of the building was for merchantile business . . . Also according to Mr. Miller's source of information . . . all the material for the building was secured from the Amish . . . no doubt the work of building was also done by the Amish.

Could be that the historians of this community could bring out more information concerning this over 100 year old building . . . When George called last evening he questioned the part of the Amish people . . . what time did they settle this part of the country . . . Judge W. While thinking about the ruins . . . let's stop a moment and do some serious thinking about today . . . You who own buildings, you who rent buildings . . . what condition are your buildings in. Are they properly wired for the heavy load that is carried for electrical equipment of today? Are the basements and back hallways . . . and storage areas kept neat? Or do you allow paper, paper cartons and other packing material to pile up . . . and then once a year or once a month have the rubbish hauled away? From time to time inspection of buildings are made by the fire chief and his assistants . . . We know for a fact that at times the warnings given by these men have been laughed at by store managers, owners and real estate agents.

It's still not too late to do something about unsafe conditions in regards to fire hazards . . . A Stockholm explorer was scaling a Himalayan peak with a Russian companion when a miniature snowslide bowled them over and left them dangling over a precipice clinging to a fragile rope. "We're goners," groaned the Russians. "Afraid of the precipice?" gasped the Swede. "No, the rope," said the Russian. "My factory manufactrued it."

An old San Franciscan began reminiscing one lunchtime about the 1906 earthquake and fire. "The whole earth trembled," he recalled. "Buildings toppled. I thought the world was coming to an end." MARCH OF EVENTS

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A leading international authority in the Senate takes a calmer view of the hydrogen bomb than Dr. Albert Einstein who said that it threatens the world with "general annihilation of life.'

Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D) Utah, says, "Mankind has always been able to commit suicide" but that desire for survival is so strong that "if you blew everything to pieces you'd find some girl Thursday and some man Friday and they would start over again."

The senator predicts that the hydrogen bomb will be "to the advantage of mankind" because of the attendant availability of hydrogen for civilian use.

Thomas argues that "every bit of power we use now is helping waste the earth." He says coal and oil supplies, sources of power in use today, must some time be exhausted, and foresees use by hydrogen power in his own lifetime.

TAX CUT MAY NOT BE FUN—The American consumer can look forward to congressional enactment of a bill cutting excise taxes—but it may not be an unmixed blessing.

Both Houses are ready to accept, and even exceed President Truman's recommendation for a 625 million dollar slash in taxes on consumer purchases and services.

However, when the tax cuts go into effect—probably on July 1—they will not be an unmixed blessing if Congress accepts the president's other recommendation for a 675 million dollar boost in corporation taxes so that the Treasury will not suffer a loss in revenue.

In that event, corporations probably will pass on their increased tax costs to the public by boosting the price of their products. In other words, while the tax on a fur coat may be eliminated, the gain may be offset by a boost in the price of the garment.

HST VS. UNEMPLOYMENT—The administration is more worried than it cares to admit over the rising unemployment figures, and the January postwar high hasn't alleviated matters.

Unemployment in January hit 4,480,000. This was 991,000 above December. The Commerce department said the increase was due to seasonal factors and Treasury Secretary John Snyder, declared it was "not cause for concern."

However, the White House has been giving the matter some deep thinking particularly since figures have shown that personal incomes in 1949 dropped considerably below the previous year.

The White House is said to be considering two courses:

1—Increasing employment through greater defense spending, which can be attributed to the cold war.

2—Making available federal loans to faltering industries.

CRIME PROBE—Look for a full-fledged investigation by Congress of organized crime in the United States.

Senator Estes Kefauver (D), Tennessee, already has offered a resolution calling for a sweeping inquiry into gambling syndicates, including the high-publicized slot machine racket.

Kefauver's measure is expected to win Senate approval without difficulty, and pave the way for public hearings.

Attorney General Howard McGrath's recent "crime" conference in Washington of local law enforcement officers from throughout the nation helped build up support for the Kefauver proposal.

Of course, the Justice department and the FBI will offer full co-operatoin with the Kefauver probe. Big-name gamblers may be called to testify.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A new species of jitterbugs is threatening to sweep the country.

They don't wear zoot suits and dance like demons as their better-known namesakes did and in some places still do.

Those earlier jitterbugs were just silly and exuberant kids who didn't know what to do with their surplus energy.

But the new ones are much more dangerous. Left alone they will multiply and pretty soon the whole country will be infested by them.

At the moment they are most prevalent on the two coasts—the Atlantic and the Pacific coast.

These new jitterbugs are so named (by me) because they have an awful case of the jitters. These jitters are frightfully contagious and apt to infest anybody who comes in contact with them.

Let us hope that someone will invent something to nip this disease before it becomes a plague.

Let me give you a typical case of the malady.

A porter at the International Airport in Los Angeles heard a ticking coming out of a suitcase.

"A bomb!" was his immediate thought.

Shaking with the jitters he notified the airport authorities who, also full of the jitters, notified the police.

In the meantime they put the bag away out into the field where, when it exploded, it would not harm anbyody. Hundreds looked on from a safe distance, while they were shaking in their boots.

The police arrived. They took the thing to headquarters. A brave sergeant broke open the lock, rummaged through a lot of woman's clothing and found—a vibrating machine.

When the owner of the bag was located, she said that the virbator switch must have turned itself on by accident.

That is an example from the west coast.

It's just as bad around New York.

The latest idea is that Russia is about to send a bunch of bombs (atom of hydrogen) over here on innocent looking tramp ships and blow the whole gosh-darn east coast clear into the skies.

Other scare-mongers tell us that when Russia gets ready—which may happen at any moment—it will only be a matter of minutes before we are all pulverized into Kingdom Come.

Many senators, congressmen and scientists are already badly infected by the jitters and make childish speeches and visionary proposals.

We should be cautious, of course. We should be ready for whatever may come.

But the best way to be ready is to be so completely and practically ready that the disaster for which we are ready will never happen.

It has been said that we worry most about the things that never happen.

For heaven's and our own sake let us get rid of the jitters and the jitterbugs.

Let us get rid of our fears—and keep our powder dry!

THE PRECIOUS VOTE

Years ago my father said: "In this

When it's time for you to vote,

Now remember what I say,
though a single vote you own
Choose the man you think is best though you stand with him alone.

"Clever men will promise much
for the favor of the throng.
They won't mention what is right,
if it's pleasing to be wrong.
But if one man should appear
unafraid to tell the truth,
Give your precious vote to him
when you're in the polling

"It may be the day will come
when a candidate will rise
Who won't think of winning
votes where his country's

And, no matter what the cost, if
the right he will defend
Give that vote of yours to him,
and stay with him to

WHAT THIS COUNTRY NEEDS

Grave assumptions apparently emanating from the Treasury Department that the "nickle is losing its popularity" seem a wrong slant on the reported decline in public demand for the famous fice-cent pieces.

The nickel is as "popular" in the sense of retaining our affections as it ever was. But there is not nearly so much to be accomplished with the coin as in happier days. The five-cent cigar of Tom Marshall allusion is a memory. And where can one ride for that modest sum in a street car? There are parking meters, but the thrifty use pennies in them whenever possible.

Some chewing gum, perhaps a few candy bars, a newspaper and very few other things, can be got for a nickel. There was a time when a small boy would cheerfully run an errand for five cents—but not now.

But don't dismiss or disparage the nickel—build it up. A few fundamentals like Governmental economy and less deficit financing would help. What this country needs is more nickels—that would buy more.

CAN'T BUY UTOPIA OVERNIGHT

A New York Herald-Tribune editorial discusses the government's proposed vast social security program with its emphasis on protection against loss of income for the ill and unemployed, better housing for the people, better health and medical care, an insured income for the aged, and the rest of it. It then says: "No one disputes the desirability of the goals, no one doubts that the American system has within itself the power to attain them to a degree known to no other nation. But to achieve them demands more than mere faith, more than a political formula, more than the denunciation of 'reactionaries'... The program which Mr. Truman puts forth... is as complicated, difficult and costly as anything which could well be imagined. Combined with the vast commitments for defense and foreign aid which the United States has undertaken, it would constitute a crushing burden on the productive energies of America. This is not what 'the will of the people' demanded, nor what Mr. Truman told the voters in the 1948 campaign. He spoke then, and he speaks now, as if a goal has only to be stated in legislation to be won, painlessly and finally. The experience of too many countries with this kind of wishful thinking, however, has proved to be futile and dangerous."

What the Herald-Tribune is saying, in essence, is that men of good will, impatient to immediately attain some great end, have unwittingly created economic ruin for millions. In no country in the world has the life of the masses of people been so greatly improved as in ours. That life will, in the normal course of events, get better, happier, more secure. But if we try to buy utopia overnight, the consequences will be disastrous.

WILL GAIN HERE, TOO

That socialism is fighting a losing battle can hardly be doubted now that England has followed Australia and New Zealand in reining in the wild followers of Karl Marx who, a few months ago, were galloping for collectivism.

The radio mouthpieces and the Washington smart boys of the "liberal" press in this country have never squirmed as they are squirming now in "explaining" that what happens elsewhere in the world will have absolutely no effect on election returns in the United States. Until the eve of the British election they had emitted a different squeal.

But the gloom that pervades leftist ranks in the United States—in and out of Congress and other government circles—leaves no doubt that a blow has been dealt to the spenders, the controllers and the taxers on this side of the big pond.

Conservatives in the United States, in both political parties, have been given a lift to their morale such as they have not experienced since the elections of 1946 in this country. The nation's economy again facing paralysis caused by uncalled-for strikes, the American people, according to many indications, have decided it's time to call the hands of the bottom-of-the-deck dealers.

There is only one danger—over-confidence. The British conservatives fought a great battle to the last minute. They did not win a majority in the House of Commons, but they came so close to it that the decline in strength of the laborites constitutes a stunning defeat for that group and effectively stops it from engaging in any new efforts.

Churchill, in his final speech, called upon the British people to "spit the laborites out." That is the sort of campaigning against the American leftists that is needed.

Wealth may not bring happiness, but it seems to bring a pleasant kind of misery.

There's many a man who doesn't have to be told by a doctor to lay off that snow shovel.

A Washington state blueberry grower says he employs his geese to clear his land of weeds. At last—an egg-laying lawnmower!

The 1950 census is expected to show women will outnumber men in the United States by more than a million. That's sad news to spinsters—especially with Leap Year still two years away!

Difficulties Facing Western Allies

The almost insuperable difficulties of the Western Allies in bringing about some permanent solution of the German problem were underlined again today.

John J. McCloy, United States high commissioner for Germany who is returning to Washington from Berlin on Friday to testify before a Senate committee, has called attention to the fact that the eastern zone of the Reich is going to have an "election" the October.

He made clear that this will be the diametric opposite of political balloting as it is known in the United States and as it was demonstrated in Great Britain last week.

Vote Yes or No

The Eastern Germans, on the other hand, will be compelled to vote merely "yes" or "no" for a single slate of Communist candidates.

As usual, in the case of all Soviet-controlled areas, there is expected to be a certain amount of duress. In any case, the citizens know they will face ostracism or worse if they take any material means of showing opposition to the Communist regime.

One of the major difficulties in obtaining Germany unity on Democratic lines, which is what the Western Allies want, lies in the fact that the longer Eastern Germay lies under Soviet control, the harder it will be to instill Democratic ideals among the people.

The elections in Western Germany headed by Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer seems to be carrying on with a minimum of trouble although charges of "Neo-Nazism" still are heard from the Social Democrats.

Emphasizes Sham

McCloy has emphasized the "sham" inherent in Communist-type elections.

These are, of course, on the same pattern as those held in Germany during the Nazi days when 99 per cent of the population voted "ya" for the single list of Brownshirt candidates presented by the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin or the Braunhaus in Munich.

A fundamental point underlying McCloy's denunciation of eastern methods is the simple fact that the eastern Germans simply are being encouraged if not compelled to do what they have done since 1933.

And the longer the habit continues, the harder it will be to break.

Britain's controversial election—in many respects was one of the most historic developments in the twentieth century—has a unique place in retrospect in connection with the scheduled autumn elections in Germany.

Assuming that German voters living under Communist rule will vote preponderantly for the Communist candidates, the Kremlin is provided immediately with an invaluable piece of propaganda.

What happened in Britain—the emergency of Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Labor government with a tenuous majority that might mean defeat at any moment—gives new life and surface validity to one of the strongest arguments in the totalitarian dictionary.

This is the claim that the Western Democratic system of government is undependable and transitory.

Time and again Adolf Hitler said that he could not risk anything in the nature of a permanent agreement with the governments of France or Great Britain because he never could be sure when they might be thrown out of office on a non-confidence vote.

Communist propagandists have said the same sort of thing in reference to their own regime in Moscow. They point to the fact that what they call the "people's state" has been in control of the country, virtually unopposed, since Stalin took power.

Out of Place

It would be out of place, of course, for these spokesmen to imply by any word or gesture what has made this unbroken maintenance of a police state possible.

But it is simple to understand how the great masses of the Soviet population, still struggling with illiteracy and sub-standard living conditions, can be lulled into a belief that theirs is the only solid, substantial, unassailable structure in a changing world.

McCloy's evidence in Washington may throw some interesting new light on the methods being used by the Soviets today in their determined attempts to make Eastern Germany a 100 per cent satellite of the Kremlin. Whether it will result in any Democratic resurgence in the areas under Moscow's control is quite another thing altogether.

He served in the German army as a lieutenant in World War I, and later, when Adolf Hitler rose to power, he became a member of the National Socialist party. At one time it is said he was head of the S. S., Hitler's Elite Guard. During Hitler's invasion of central Europe in World War II, he served successively as commandant of field headquarters in Austria, the Sudetenland and Poland. The tank divisions under his command in 1940 played a substantial part in German victory in France. In 1941 he was placed in charge of the German Afrika Korps, then fighting in Libya. By 1942 he had retaken Tobruk from the British and driven the British Eighth army back to El Alamein, Egypt. The British counter-attack, however, drove his army back to Tunisia and later to surrender. He was called the "Desert Fox", and he died in 1944 in Germany.

Lou Tellegen was born in southern Holland Nov. 26, 1885, but authorities do not say where. His father was Greek, his mother Dutch. He was a matinee idol of his day—a "perfect lover", it was said. He was once married t the now retired opera singer, Geraldine Farrar. He was brought up by a strict tutor, who taught him the art of fencing. In his youth he was by turns a baker, circus performer, sculptor's model, sculptor, prizefighter, playwright and actor. He was one time leading man for Sarah Bernhardt and other famous actresses. He also made productions for the screen, as actor and was a director. He did No Other Woman there for one of the well known film companies. Failing health in his later years caused him to take his own life in Hollywood Oct. 28, 1934.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ANIMATED BOOKS ARE FUN

Animals acting as persons are very popular with children, and the more whimsical these animals the more they may be enjoyed. But if you walked into a classroom of the first or second grade of almost any school in the United States, you would hardly find a reader with animated animal stories in it. School books for young children usually lag in fashion several years behind "trade" books such as are bought from the modern book store or found among new books of the public library.

But if you will examine the school readers of about thirty years ago you will find them made up chiefly of animals that talk.

Rapid Development

But parallel with the rapid development of the kindergarten in the early part of this century, and later, of the nursery school there developed widely the notion among educators that young children should be given facts instead of fancies, that if they heard or read stories of animals which act as persons they would get all mixed up mentally and emotionally, later, when faced with scientific facts. For like reason, fables and fairy tales were frowned upon. Instead, the here-and-now story became the model for years (and still is, in the current school reader). As a result, little children were growing up with starved imagination. I should add that, even to this date, the accumulating studies in child development have pretty generally ignored creative imagination.

During the "dark" years of the twenties and thirties some rather distinguished leaders in selection and evaluation of literature for young children used to poke fun at Mrs. Myers and me for reading so many stories of animated animals, and other fanciful yarns to our own children when they were very young; and for urging teachers (I was then at teachers training) to expose children to such literature.

Nevertheless, during that period and since, as my readers may know, I have never ceased to plead in this column, in my books, in the university classroom, and from the public platform for bringing back animated animal stories and folk lore for young children. Naturally, I gain some satisfaction in seeing wings of imagination now gathering in little children's sky.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Spectacular California Campaign

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Nothing that California ever does is on a scale less than supercolossal, whether it's movie spectacles or weather, good and bad. That goes double for the political campaign just now coming up.

In the primary representative Helen Gahagan Douglas is setting out to defeat Senator Sheridan Downey who is running for a third term. From her career on the stage Mrs. Douglas brings to politics the intensity of a highly dramatic temperament and an energy that could have developed only in the atmosphere that produces those giant geraniums and sunkist starlets.

Already Mrs. Douglas has campaigned once up and down the Pacific slope, from the north with its redwood forests to the date palm groves of the south. Now she is starting out again for another sweep and the reports are that the lady is drawing large houses at almost every appearance.

Once A Ham-And-Egger

Downey was once a ham-and-egger in the classic California tradition, with bigger and better pensions every other Thursday. He is also an orator of great persuasion. In late years the Senator has become deeply involved in a quarrel over California's fabulous central valley with its far-flung irrigation system supporting highly profitable specialized farming.

The quarrel promises to be the center ring in the primary circus. Mrs. Douglas and her adherents in the liberal-labor-left wing of the Democratic party charge Downey with selling out to private power and agricultural interests and in league with hem throttling the development of the state.

On his side Downey charges a conspiracy directed from Washington to control the valley. He has written a whole book about it and made innumerable speeches. His chief target in the capital is Commissioner of Reclamation Michael W. Straus. In the course of several Congressional hearings Downey charged that Straus and former Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes connived to force out Straus' predecessor, Harry Bashore.

Ickes Gets Into Act

It is at this point that Ickes, himself, the old warrior, gets into the act. Called to testify last fall, he accused Downey of "unabashed perjury" and read from his diary to document his statement that he had pleaded several times with Bashore to stay on. Curiosuly enough, the record of this testimony has never been printed.

Ickes will in all likelihood go out to California as the contest waxes hotter to campaign for Mrs. Douglas. As one of friends put it, he's complaining about going way out there at his age but if you ask me, it would take the Marine Corps to keep him out of that fight." As he proved once again in 1948 when he added the only touches of humor to a grim campaign, Ickes is a devastating opponent.

In the Democratic governorship primary, James Roosevelt, eldest son of FDR, is the only important contender. In fact, if Roosevelt had a conservative opponent in his own party, he would be better off.

Third Term Candidate

Governor Earl Warren is a candidate for a third term and he will file both in the Republican primary to which he belongs, and in the Democratic primary. Under the wacky California system party lines are crossed as though they did not exist. The expectation is that conservative Democrats, who deeply resent Jimmy Roosevelt, will vote for Warren in the Democratic primary.

Warren's popularity in the state is an impressive fact. The Republican hope is that the governor, in spite of an unprecedented third term, will pull the whole ticket through. In the Senate race the leading contender is Representative Richard M. Nixon, chiefly distinguished for his part in getting the Hiss case into the courts. But he has a fairly formidable opponent in Fred Hauser, judge of the superior court of Los Angeles.

The primary election is on June 6. Almost anything can happen on that date and probably will. In the meantime, Californians will be treated to such a contest of glamour, brains, oratory and just plain politics as has rarely been seen.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

There was no particular opposition to the return of Chiang as president of China . . . here's a country where not even a Republican would want the job.

But I thought it was a little cruel of the Communists to wire "Have you been away?"

The fellow who was supposed to be president came to New York, liked the bus service and stayed.

It was a little confusing there for a while when the president of China was in New York, the mayor of New York was in Key Largo and for all I know the Mayor of Key Largo was in Shanghai.

Finally O'Dwyer came home and announced that he would be with us 'till his next vacation but the president of China still refuses to be drafted for service overseas.

He is a sick man and when he reads the despatches from home they don't convalesce him any.

Well good luck anyway President Chiang, you're at least as solid in office as Premier Attlee.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

People are interested in their home town . . . a number have called in and commented about the Clendenin Building . . . when it was built . . . we think that now we have the correct date. George Z. Miller tells us that the main part of the building was built in 1848 by Robert W. Clendenin . . . the size of that construction was 60x90. Purpose of the building was for merchantile business . . . Also according to Mr. Miller's source of information . . . all the material for the building was secured from the Amish . . . no doubt the work of building was also done by the Amish.

Could be that the historians of this community could bring out more information concerning this over 100 year old building . . . When George called last evening he questioned the part of the Amish people . . . what time did they settle this part of the country . . . Judge W. Walter Braham can you shed any light on that question?

While thinking about the ruins . . . let's stop a moment and do some serious thinking about today . . . You who own buildings, you who rent buildings . . . what condition are your buildings in. Are they properly wired for the heavy load that is carried for electrical equipment of today? Are the basements and back hallways . . . and storage areas kept neat? Or do you allow paper, paper cartons and other packing material to pile up . . . and then once a year or once a month have the rubbish hauled away? From time to time inspection of buildings are made by the fire chief and his assistants . . . We know for a fact that at times the warnings given by these men have been laughed at by store managers, owners and real estate agents.

It's still not too late to do something about unsafe conditions in regards to fire hazards . . . It should be everyone's concern . . . it should be the prime topic of today for the officials in charge to enforce the law in cases where the tennants, owners or agents of buildings refuse to correct hazardous conditions . . . How about it . . . a little less talking and a lot more action . . . life cannot be measured in dollars.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A Stockholm explorer was scaling a Himalayan peak with a Russian companion when a miniature snowslide bowled them over and left them dangling over a precipice clinging to a fragile rope. "We're goners," groaned the Russians. "Afraid of the precipice?" gasped the Swede. "No, the rope," said the Russian. "My factory manufactrued it."

An old San Franciscan began reminiscing one lunchtime about the 1906 earthquake and fire. "The whole earth trembled," he recalled. "Buildings toppled. I thought the world was coming to an end." At this point Robert Koshland, the frozen foods king, clapped a hand to his head and exclaimed, "That reminds me! I forgot to mail a letter for my wife this morning."

Benjamin Franklin attended school for only two years, from the time he was eight to when he was 10 years old.

Inside Washington

MARCH OF EVENTS

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A leading international authority in the Senate takes a calmer view of the hydrogen bomb than Dr. Albert Einstein who said that it threatens the world with "general annihilation of life."

Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D) Utah, says, "Mankind has always been able to commit suicide" but that desire for survival is so strong that "if you blew everything to pieces you'd find some girl Thursday and some man Friday and they would start over again."

The senator predicts that the hydrogen bomb will be "to the advantage of mankind" because of the attendant availability of hydrogen for civilian use.

Thomas argues that "every bit of power we use now is helping waste the earth." He says coal and oil supplies, sources of power in use today, must some time be exhausted, and foresees use by hydrogen power in his own lifetime.

TAX CUT MAY NOT BE FUN—The American consumer can look forward to congressional enactment of a bill cutting excise taxes—but it may not be an unmixed blessing.

Both Houses are ready to accept, and even exceed President Truman's recommendation for a 625 million dollar slash in taxes on consumer purchases and services.

However, when the tax cuts go into effect—probably on July 1—they will not be an unmixed blessing if Congress accepts the president's other recommendation for a 675 million dollar boost in corporation taxes so that the Treasury will not suffer a loss in revenue.

In that event, corporations probably will pass on their increased tax costs to the public by boosting the price of their products. In other words, while the tax on a fur coat may be eliminated, the gain may be offset by a boost in the price of the garment.

HST VS. UNEMPLOYMENT—The administration is more worried than it cares to admit over the rising unemployment figures, and the January postwar high hasn't alleviated matters.

Unemployment in January hit 4,480,000. This was 991,000 above December. The Commerce department said the increase was due to seasonal factors and Treasury Secretary John Snyder, declared it was "not cause for concern."

However, the White House has been giving the matter some deep thinking particularly since figures have shown that personal incomes in 1949 dropped considerably below the previous year.

The White House is said to be considering two courses:

1—Increasing employment through greater defense spending, which can be attributed to the cold war.

2—Making available federal loans to faltering industries.

CRIME PROBE—Look for a full-fledged investigation by Congress of organized crime in the United States.

Senator Estes Kefauver (D), Tennessee, already has offered a resolution calling for a sweeping inquiry into gambling syndicates, including the high-publicized slot machine racket.

Kefauver's measure is expected to win Senate approval without difficulty, and pave the way for public hearings.

Attorney General Howard McGrath's recent "crime" conference in Washington of local law enforcement officers from throughout the nation helped build up support for the Kefauver proposal.

Of course, the Justice department and the FBI will offer full co-operatoin with the Kefauver probe. Big-name gamblers may be called to testify.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A new species of jitterbugs is threatening to sweep the country.

They don't wear zoot suits and dance like demons as their better-known namesakes did and in some places still do.

Those earlier jitterbugs were just silly and exuberant kids who didn't know what to do with their surplus energy.

But the new ones are much more dangerous. Left alone they will multiply and pretty soon the whole country will be infested by them.

At the moment they are most prevalent on the two coasts—the Atlantic and the Pacific coast.

These new jitterbugs are so named (by me) because they have an awful case of the jitters. These jitters are frightfully contagious and apt to infest anybody who comes in contact with them.

Let us hope that someone will invent something to nip this disease before it becomes a plague.

Let me give you a typical case of the malady.

A porter at the International Airport in Los Angeles heard a ticking coming out of a suitcase.

"A bomb!" was his immediate thought.

Shaking with the jitters he notified the airport authorities who, also full of the jitters, notified the police.

In the meantime they put the bag away out into the field where, when it exploded, it would not harm anbyody. Hundreds looked on from a safe distance, while they were shaking in their boots.

The police arrived. They took the thing to headquarters. A brave sergeant broke open the lock, rummaged through a lot of woman's clothing and found—a vibrating machine.

When the owner of the bag was located, she said that the virbator switch must have turned itself on by accident.

That is an example from the west coast.

It's just as bad around New York.

The latest idea is that Russia is about to send a bunch of bombs (atom of hydrogen) over here on innocent looking tramp ships and blow the whole gosh-darn east coast clear into the skies.

Other scare-mongers tell us that when Russia gets ready—which may happen at any moment—it will only be a matter of minutes before we are all pulverized into Kingdom Come.

Many senators, congressmen and scientists are already badly infected by the jitters and make childish speeches and visionary proposals.

We should be cautious, of course. We should be ready for whatever may come.

But the best way to be ready is to be so completely and practically ready that the disaster for which we are ready will never happen.

It has been said that we worry most about the things that never happen.

For heaven's and our own sake let us get rid of the jitters and the jitterbugs.

Let us get rid of our fears—and keep our powder dry!

THE PRECIOUS VOTE

Years ago my father said: "In this country of the free
When it's time for you to vote, tempted often you will be.
Now remember what I say,
though a single vote you own
Choose the man you think is best though you stand with him alone.

"Clever men will promise much
for the favor of the throng.
They won't mention what is right,
if it's pleasing to be wrong.
But if one man should appear
unafraid to tell the truth,
Give your precious vote to him
when you're in the polling booth.

"It may be the day will come
when a candidate will rise
Who won't think of winning
votes where his country's interest lies.
And, no matter what the cost, if
the right he will defend
Give that vote of yours to him,
and stay with him to the end."

Military Coal Stocks To Be Distributed

WASHINGTON, March 2—(INS)—Defense Secretary Johnson today ordered all military establishments to distribute for civilian use their coal stocks exceeding minimum needs for the next two weeks.

The coal is to be distributed through the six army area commanders at the request of state governors.

Johnson told the military establishments to cut their own post coal consumption "to the bare minimum necessary for operations and the protection of health and securtiy."

The six army commands are at Governors Island, N. Y.; Fort Meade, Md.; Fort McPherson, Ga.; Fort Houston, Tex.; Chicago, Ill., and San Francisco, Calif.

The army commanders are authorized to collect and distribute coal from navy and air force installations as well.

Johnson told the commanders to retain only coal stocks needed to operate until March 15.

Pennsylvania Has Many Different Mosquito Breeds

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 2.—Pennsylvania has at least 26 different kinds of mosquitoes—but only six of them are abundant and troublesome.

Dr. Stuart W. Frost, professor of economic entomology at the Pennsylvania State college, reports that several new types, among them the malaria mosquito, have been intercepted in recent years.

Malaria mosquitoes have been found close to naval hospitals, Dr. Frost says, and it is suspected that the disease picked up by service men returning from malaria areas may have been transmitted by this mosquito in some instances.

Marsh Mosquito

Another unpopular mosquito is the marsh mosquito, which has caused much concern in the recreational area at Presque Isle, Erie, and the residential section of Philipsburg. This insect is also recognized as a carrier of sleeping sickness in horses.

Dr. Frost reports that the house mosquito, which appears in early spring and stays until late fall, is one of the best-known application of general sanitation measures. It breeds in water collected in old tin cans, old auto tires, cisterns, rain barrels and other containers.

Another variety that breeds around dumps and small pools is Aedes vexans, a specie not so well known, but common in Pennsylvania.

CHECK BARN HAZARDS

One item on every farmer's winter chore list should be a check on barn accident hazards, reminds C. G. Burress, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State College. Check on loose objects which may cause falls, put lights in dark corners, and practice orderly housekeeping with equipment.

Malaria mosquitoes have been found close to naval hospitals, Dr. Frost says, and it is suspected that the disease picked up by service men returning from malaria areas may have been transmitted by this mosquito in some instances.

Marsh Mosquito

Another unpopular mosquito is the marsh mosquito, which has caused much concern in the recreational area at Presque Isle, Erie, and the residential section of Philipsburg. This insect is also recognized as a carrier of sleeping sickness in horses.

Dr. Frost reports that the house mosquito, which appears in early spring and stays until late fall, is one of the best-known application of general sanitation measures. It breeds in water collected in old tin cans, old auto tires, cisterns, rain barrels and other containers.

Another variety that breeds around dumps and small pools is Aedes vexans, a specie not so well known, but common in Pennsylvania.

CHECK BARN HAZARDS

One item on every farmer's winter chore list should be a check on barn accident hazards, reminds C. G. Burress, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State College. Check on loose objects which may cause falls, put lights in dark corners, and practice orderly housekeeping with equipment.

Warns Against Increased Federal Aid For Highways

By AL SPIVAK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 2.—(INS)—A Pennsylvania highway expert today cautioned against increased federal aid for road development.

E. L. Schmidt, chief engineer of the state department of highways, said that the highway problem can best be solved at local and state levels, with minimum assistance and regulation from the federal government.

Construction of new roads is not the real answer to today's highway problems, he added.

Suggests Solution

"Withdrawal of the federal government from the field of gasoline taxation and motor excise taxes, with these funds accruing to the states would do more to improve the highway situation than any increases in federal aid appropriations," he declared.

Schmidt has reported his view to north Atlantic states highway officials.

Schmidt said that he does not advocate discontinuance of federal aid to the states, but rather that there be no material increases in such appropriations and no extension of federal activities in the management of state highway affairs.

"Modern highway development dates approximately from the end of World War One," he explained. "Like all infants it was practically helpless at birth as well as through childhood and adolescense. It is now a husky and well-developed adult, no longer requiring constant parental care and attention."

Real Answer

"We cannot reconstruct all of our roads at one time," he pointed out, "the real answer is to concentrate more on salvaging, widen-and resurfacing the presently-improved roads."

Schmidt advocated also construction of "most important rural earth roads," improvement of bottlenecks in the state's metropolitan areas, and continued reconstruction of the worst sections of primary highways, all of which should be done under federal aid appropriations at the current level he said.

"The proposed federal aid appropriation advocated and endorsed by the American Association of State Highway Officials provides for 75 per cent federal funds and 25 per cent state funds on the inter-state system," he said.

"For Congress to pass such legislation is unthinkable," he contended. "Pennsylvania approved designation of the inter-state system only after we were assured verbally that there would be no specific appropriations for it."

50-50 Partnership

A 50-50 partnership between the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the individual states has existed for many years, Schmidt explained.

"Immediately upon the inception of a 75 per cent federal and 25 per cent state division of construction cost, the state would become a junior partner with principal control being exercised by the federal government. The states under their own management and with their own resources can do a better job."

Pointing to Pennsylvania as an example, Schmidt cited the fact that over a five-year period state highway expenditures totalled $415,054,000, including an estimated $110,346,000 for 1950.

"Federal aid funds included for this period amount to $85,000,000, or slightly more than 20 per cent of the amount expended for capital improvements," Schmidt said.

FLOWER GIRLS AND PAGE IN WEDDING

Question: Where should the two flower girls and one page walk in my wedding processional and recessional?

Answer: The flower girls should walk behind the maid-of-honor and just in front of the bride in the processional. The page should walk behind her in both the processional and the recessional, the flower girls usually precede the bride and groom to strew flowers in their path as they go down the aisle. Or if preferred, they may walk behind them.

Question: At a wedding when I go down the aisle with the usher should I take his arm or merely walk behind him?

Answer: If he offers his arm, which he should, take it.

Question: At a dinner party, should one sit down from the right or left of the chair?

Answer: It does not matter. You may sit down in your chair from whichever side is more convenient. When you get up, do not push your chair back against the table. This is the servant's duty. Of course, when you are visiting a house where there is no servant, you should do everything possible to aid the hostess.

Question: When bananas are served as a dessert—that is, served whole from a center fruit bowl, how should they be eaten?

Answer: They should be stripped of their skin, placed on a dessert plate and cut into mouthfuls with the side of a fork. They should not be held in the hand with the skin partially drawn and bitten into.

Bilboes was the name given to an iron bar with sliding shackles once used to confine prisoners.

Crop Surplus Sales Efforts Result Secret

WASHINGTON, March 2—(INS)—The government has taken additional steps to whittle down tremendous farm crop surpluses under its bargain sale programs—but how successful such deals are is a mystery.

The agriculture department put nine million pounds of frozen turkeys on its so-called bargain list for exporters and 10 million pounds of cottonseed oil and potato starch on both the domestic and export buyers lists.

But a department spokesman bluntly blocked efforts of newsmen to find out how successful the program has been since it was started in early February.

Some Sales

He said "some potatoes, peanuts and eggs" have been sold, but declared he could not furnish additional figures, although it is known such figures are in existence.

Under the export buyers' program, the department lists the items, quantities and the price at which it will sell them. Of the 14 items on the list, the majority are put up for sale at less than the government paid for them.

Sales to big domestic buyers are at not less than five per cent more than the current support prices. Most of the 14 items on this list too are slated for sale at less than the government's cost.

Prices farmers received for what they sold went up on the average during the past month while the average prices they paid for things went down slightly.

The agriculture department indicated farmers' cost-price relationship was somewhat more favorable to the nation's farmers during the month ended February 15 than the previous month.

The combination of price and cost forces shoved the parity ratio up two points from January 15 to February 15 and it now stands at 96.

Parity is the present relationship between prices farmers received for things they sell and prices they paid for things, compared to a former favorable period.

Higher prices were noted for hogs, beef cattle, veal calves, lambs and cotton, while lower prices were listed for truck crops, dairy products and eggs from mid-January to mid-February.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"Just Like a Boy"

To some of us the highest praise that can be given a girl is to say "You do that just like a boy."

Perhaps we refer to athletic ability. Or it may be a direct, straightforward attitude that we assume is more likely to be found in men than in women. Almost without realizing what we are doing we begin to get across the idea that to "be like a boy" is better than to "be like a girl."

Many a woman today is frustrated and unhappy because of such attitudes and behavior. Instead of finding the joys and satisfactions that there are in being a woman, she feels cheated because she isn't a male.

In many ways, still, this is a man's world, and there may be concrete, objective reasons why girls and women sometimes feel that they're unlucky. But far more often, dissatisfactions come because in early childhood, the feeling was gotten across that to be a male is far better than to be female.

Mothers and fathers who have worked out their own adjustment, who welcome sons or daughters, one as much as the other, and who don't set unnecessary restrictions on the activities of girls are paving the way for happy, satisfied individuals in later life.

EPHESUS BECOMES CHRISTIAN CENTER

GOSPEL WINS CONVERTS IN CITY OF DIANA

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

In our day almost any so-called message, theory or philosophy set forth by a ready talker can gain converts. This is true both in the fields of religion, politics or others.

Many such doctrines seem fantastic to the Christian believer; some even immoral, but in a changing and troubled world they gain converts.

The history of the spread of the early church of Christ, largely through the efforts of the Apostle Paul and his associates, is fascinating reading to us of the modern world—and heartening too.

So far in our lessons the work has spread — our lessons have shown—from Jerusalem and other Palestine cities, to various parts of Asia to Greece, and would shortly be preached in Rome.

Rome had heard of this new religion through its men who were sent to rule over and to administer Roman laws in the conquered provinces, but, before Paul, they had not received the message directly.

In today's lesson we read how Ephesus, the city of the Greek goddess Diana, was made conscious of the Gospel of Christ and became a center of His message. The great temple of Diana—one of the wonders of the world at that time—was in Ephesus, and her worshippers were many.

Paul came to Ephesus and found some disciples there. He asked if they had received the Holy Ghost and they said no; they had not heard if there was a Holy Ghost. Paul asked unto what were they baptized, and the answer was unto John's baptism.

Paul explained that John baptized for repentance of sins, and that they should believe on Him who was to come after. So then Paul baptized them and the Holy Spirit fell on them, and they too spake in strange tongues and prophesied.

Paul preached and disputed in the synagogue at Ephesus until he found those who believed not and spoke evil of his teaching, then he transferred his activities to the school of one Tyrannus—of whom we know nothing more.

Here he stayed for two years, according to their reckoning, and all heard the "word of the Lord Jesus Christ, both Jews and Greeks."

God wrought special miracles by Paul, St. Luke tells us. Handkerchiefs or aprons were brought from his body to sick people and they were healed of their diseases.

One odd instance is told us that is even humorous. Seven sons of a Jewish high priest tried to exorcise evil spirits that possessed some persons by saying, "We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth." Instead of the evil spirit being banished, however, the man who was afflicted leaped upon the would-be exorcists, saying "Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye?" and he beat them so badly that they ran away wounded.

Many believers in the city brought their pagan books and burned them in the market place—many of them of great value.

Now Diana was the goddess worshiped generally by people in that city, and by making and selling small silver shrines to her, silversmiths had grown wealthy.

One, Demetrius, called the workmen of this craft together and pointed out that if the Christians continued to make converts at the rate they were doing, there would be no market for these wares.

The silversmiths revolted, therefore, and shouting, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians," they took their case to the town clerk. But he told them that everyone knew thata the city of Ephesus was a worshiper of Diana, and that no one had spoken ill of her, and that if Demetrius and his craftsmen had anything against these Christians they could bring it before a court of law. He said he saw no cause for all the uproar, and dismissed them.

Writing in after years to the church at Ephesus, Paul abjured them to "let not the sun go down upon your wrath. Let all bitterness, and wrath and anger and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

"And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you."

Crop Surplus Sales Efforts Result Secret

WASHINGTON, March 2—(INS)—The government has taken additional steps to whittle down tremendous farm crop surpluses under its bargain sale programs—but how successful such deals are is a mystery.

The agriculture department put nine million pounds of frozen turkeys on its so-called bargain list for exporters and 10 million pounds of cottonseed oil and potato starch on both the domestic and export buyers lists.

But a department spokesman bluntly blocked efforts of newsmen to find out how successful the program has been since it was started in early February.

Some Sales

He said "some potatoes, peanuts and eggs" have been sold, but declared he could not furnish additional figures, although it is known such figures are in existence.

Under the export buyers' program, the department lists the items, quantities and the price at which it will sell them. Of the 14 items on the list, the majority are put up for sale at less than the government paid for them.

Sales to big domestic buyers are at not less than five per cent more than the current support prices. Most of the 14 items on this list too are slated for sale at less than the government's cost.

Prices farmers received for what they sold went up on the average during the past month while the average prices they paid for things went down slightly.

The agriculture department indicated farmers' cost-price relationship was somewhat more favorable to the nation's farmers during the month ended February 15 than the previous month.

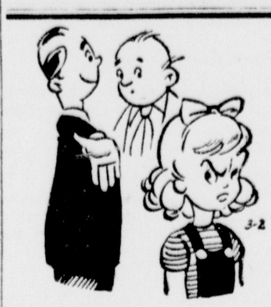
The combination of price and cost forces shoved the parity ratio up two points from January 15 to February 15 and it now stands at 96.

Parity is the present relationship between prices farmers received for things they sell and prices they paid for things, compared to a former favorable period.

Higher prices were noted for hogs, beef cattle, veal calves, lambs and cotton, while lower prices were listed for truck crops, dairy products and eggs from mid-January to mid-February.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE



"Just Like a Boy"

To some of us the highest praise that can be given a girl is to say "You do that just like a boy."

Perhaps we refer to athletic ability. Or it may be a direct, straightforward attitude that we assume is more likely to be found in men than in women. Almost without realizing what we are doing we begin to get across the idea that to "be like a boy" is better than to "be like a girl."

Many a woman today is frustrated and unhappy because of such attitudes and behavior. Instead of finding the joys and satisfactions that there are in being a woman, she feels cheated because she isn't a male.

In many ways, still, this is a man's world, and there may be concrete, objective reasons why girls and women sometimes feel that they're unlucky. But far more often, dissatisfactions come because in early childhood, the feeling was gotten across that to be a male is far better than to be female.

Mothers and fathers who have worked out their own adjustment, who welcome sons or daughters, one as much as the other, and who don't set unnecessary restrictions on the activities of girls are paving the way for happy, satisfied individuals in later life.

EPHESUS BECOMES CHRISTIAN CENTER

GOSPEL WINS CONVERTS IN CITY OF DIANA

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

In our day almost any so-called message, theory or philosophy set forth by a ready talker can gain converts. This is true both in the fields of religion, politics or others.

Many such doctrines seem fantastic to the Christian believer; some even immoral, but in a changing and troubled world they gain converts.

The history of the spread of the early church of Christ, largely through the efforts of the Apostle Paul and his associates, is fascinating reading to us of the modern world—and heartening too.

So far in our lessons the work has spread — our lessons have shown—from Jerusalem and other Palestine cities, to various parts of Asia, to Greece, and would shortly be preached in Rome.

Rome had heard of this new religion through its men who were sent to rule over and to administer Roman laws in the conquered provinces, but, before Paul, they had not received the message directly.

In today's lesson we read how Ephesus, the city of the Greek goddess Diana, was made conscious of the Gospel of Christ and became a center of His message. The great temple of Diana—one of the wonders of the world at that time—was in Ephesus, and her worshippers were many.

Paul came to Ephesus and found some disciples there. He asked if they had received the Holy Ghost and they said no; they had not heard if there was a Holy Ghost. Paul asked unto what were they baptized, and the answer was unto John's baptism.

Paul explained that John baptized for repentance of sins, and that they should believe on Him who was to come after. So then Paul baptized them and the Holy Spirit fell on them, and they too spake in strange tongues and prophesied.

Paul preached and disputed in the synagogue at Ephesus until he found those who believed not and spoke evil of his teaching, then he transferred his activities to the school of one Tyrannus—of whom we know nothing more.

Here he stayed for two years, according to their reckoning, and all heard the "word of the Lord Jesus Christ, both Jews and Greeks."

God wrought special miracles by Paul, St. Luke tells us. Handkerchiefs or aprons were brought from his body to sick people and they were healed of their diseases.

One odd instance is told us that is even humorous. Seven sons of a Jewish high priest tried to exorcise evil spirits that possessed some persons by saying, "We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth." Instead of the evil spirit being banished, however, the man who was afflicted leaped upon the would-be exorcists, saying "Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye?" and he beat them so badly that they ran away wounded.

Many believers in the city brought their pagan books and burned them in the market place—many of them of great value.

Now Diana was the goddess worshiped generally by people in that city, and by making and selling small silver shrines to her, silversmiths had grown wealthy.

One, Demetrius, called the workmen of this craft together and pointed out that if the Christians continued to make converts at the rate they were doing, there would be no market for these wares.

The silversmiths revolted, therefore, and shouting, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians," they took their case to the town clerk. But he told them that everyone knew thata the city of Ephesus was a worshiper of Diana, and that no one had spoken ill of her, and that if Demetrius and his craftsmen had anything against these Christians they could bring it before a court of law. He said he saw no cause for all the uproar, and dismissed them.

Writing in after years to the church at Ephesus, Paul abjured them to "let not the sun go down upon your wrath. Let all bitterness, and wrath and anger and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

"And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you."

Joy and happiness is the keynote of this holiday, which is related in the Book of Esther known as the traditional "Megillah." Special prayers of thanks and liturgical laudations are chanted in the Synagogues and home for the miraculous deliverance which occured during the early Persian period. The observance of the Feast of Purim was ordained by the Great Men of the Synod, of which Mordecai was said to have been a member.

A special evening service ushering in Purim will be held at Tifereth Israel Synagogue this evening, at 7 p. m. Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will officiate and Rev. Benjamin Miller, Cantor, will chant the liturgical readings within the "Book of Esther" The community including parents and children affiliated with the Religious School are invited to attend these special services. On Friday morning, March 3, services will commence promptly at 7 a. m.

The early Religious service, Friday evening, will take place at 5:30 p. m. and the weekly late service will commence at 8:15 p. m. Rabbi Jules Lipschutz will preach upon the theme, "The Moral of Purim," and Rev. Benjamin Miller will chant the Sabbath prayers. The reception for the Oneg Shabbat will be tendered by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kantz.

The annual Purim concert sponsored by Tifereth Israel school will be held this Sunday afternoon, March 5, at 2:30 p. m., sharp at the Synagogue. An elaborate arranged program will feature the Tiny Tot Orchestra, dramatic skits, musical selections.

Prison Number Given Dr. Fuchs

Betrayer Of A-Bomb Secrets Starts Term

LONDON, March 2.—(INS)—Dr. Klaus Fuchs, convicted of betraying atomic secrets to Russia, was given a regulation bath and crew haircut today and assigned a prison number.

Dr. Fuchs was introduced to the ways of a convict at the Wormwood Scrubs, West London, jail where he spent the night after he was sentenced yesterday to 14 years in prison.

Prisoners sentenced to long terms at London criminal courts usually are held two weeks at the Wormwood Scrubs jail until accomodations are arranged for them at a prison.

Gets Prison Clothing

The German-born British physicist was awakened at 6 a. m. for his bath and haircut and then was handed regulation prison clothing and eating utensils.

Later he was interviewed by the warden and informed about jail regulations. Fuchs was told that he was to have no visitors except lawyers for three months. After that he will be permitted one other visitor a month.

In event that an appeal on his conviction and sentence is honored he will be permitted to help lawyers prepare arguments.

The Wormwood Scrubs workshops concentrate on making mail bags and perform other light work. Fuchs will be assigned some temporary task there.

The United States has used standard time since 1883, but no legislative action for the country is recorded until 1918.

TEST HEATING SYSTEM

It is a good idea to test the heating system in the plant growing house at least a week before sowing the seed. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, explains that such checking will determine whether any repairs or replacements are needed.

Coal Strike Forced Production Drop

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve Board said today the soft coal strike and an auto dispute forced a three percent drop in the nation's industrial production last month.

In its monthly business survey, the board declared that production rose to the highest level in 10 months. But, the coal dispute reversed the situation in February.

The board said that last month "industrial output has apparently declined about five points, largely as a result of work stoppages in the coal and automobile industries."

This drop figures to about a three percent decline in production.

For January, the index rose three points to 183 percent of the pre-war average—the highest since last March.

The board noted that the Chrysler auto strike starting Jan. 25 reduced by 20 percent auto assembly operations at the plant. Steel production dropped from 95 percent in mid-January to 74 percent this week as a result of the coal shutdown.

Prison Terms Given Two

DOVER, Del., March 2.—(INS)—Two sons of Mrs. Inez G. Brennan, convicted "lonely hearts" slayer, were given jail terms Wednesday at the Dover court of Oyer and Terminer.

Raymond Brennan, 24, and his brother, George, 19, were convicted of being accessories in the death of Wade N. Wooldridge, 67.

Raymond was sentenced to two years in the Kent county jail and George was given a one year term.

Mrs. Brennan and another son, Robert, 16, were given life terms last fall.

Army To Abandon Recent Fancy Titles

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS)—The army is going back to the "pits", and it has nothing to do with the coal strike.

Army Secretary Gray announced that his branch of the service would abandon fancy titles for its different services and revert to the old system of calling the staff division by G-numbers.

Henceforth, as in the past, personnel and administration will be G-1, intelligence G-2, operations G-3 and supply G-4.

A postwar directive eliminated the G-numbers, supposedly in the interest of clarity.

But drill sergeants used to tell recruits that even the stupidist of them (the recruits, of course) could remember "Pits-1234"—one for personnel, two for intelligence, three for training and four for supply.

Apparently the generals think so too.

Death Decree For Slaying

DOVER, Del., March 2.—(INS)—Edward Williams, 35, of Milford, was sentenced to death by hanging Wednesday by the Dover court of Oyer and Terminer for the Jan. 28 "jealousy" slaying of Beatrice Brown.

Railroads supplied the steel industry with 3,750,000 tons of scrap metal in 1949, says the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel.

TEST HEATING SYSTEM

It is a good idea to test the heating system in the plant growing house at least a week before sowing the seed. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, explains that such checking will determine whether any repairs or replacements are needed.

Coal Strike Forced Production Drop

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve Board said today the soft coal strike and an auto dispute forced a three percent drop in the nation's industrial production last month.

In its monthly business survey, the board declared that production rose to the highest level in 10 months. But, the coal dispute reversed the situation in February.

The board said that last month "industrial output has apparently declined about five points, largely as a result of work stoppages in the coal and automobile industries."

This drop figures to about a three percent decline in production.

For January, the index rose three points to 183 percent of the pre-war average—the highest since last March.

The board noted that the Chrysler auto strike starting Jan. 25 reduced by 20 percent auto assembly operations at the plant. Steel production dropped from 95 percent in mid-January to 74 percent this week as a result of the coal shutdown.

Prison Terms Given Two

DOVER, Del., March 2.—(INS)—Two sons of Mrs. Inez G. Brennan, convicted "lonely hearts" slayer, were given jail terms Wednesday at the Dover court of Oyer and Terminer.

Raymond Brennan, 24, and his brother, George, 19, were convicted of being accessories in the death of Wade N. Wooldridge, 67.

Raymond was sentenced to two years in the Kent county jail and George was given a one year term.

Mrs. Brennan and another son, Robert, 16, were given life terms last fall.

Army To Abandon Recent Fancy Titles

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS)—The army is going back to the "pits", and it has nothing to do with the coal strike.

Army Secretary Gray announced that his branch of the service would abandon fancy titles for its different services and revert to the old system of calling the staff division by G-numbers.

Henceforth, as in the past, personnel and administration will be G-1, intelligence G-2, operations G-3 and supply G-4.

A postwar directive eliminated the G-numbers, supposedly in the interest of clarity.

But drill sergeants used to tell recruits that even the stupidist of them (the recruits, of course) could remember "Pits-1234"—one for personnel, two for intelligence, three for training and four for supply.

Apparently the generals think so too.

Death Decree For Slaying

DOVER, Del., March 2.—(INS)—Edward Williams, 35, of Milford, was sentenced to death by hanging Wednesday by the Dover court of Oyer and Terminer for the Jan. 28 "jealousy" slaying of Beatrice Brown.

Railroads supplied the steel industry with 3,750,000 tons of scrap metal in 1949, says the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel.

in the record; but this court may not convict on conjecture, being bound to act only on the evidence before it, which is insufficient to support a finding of either criminal or civil contempt.

"I, therefore, find the respondent union not guilty of civil or criminal contempt."

Failed To Prove

The court explained that in a criminal contempt proceeding the defendant is presumed innocent until proved guilty and the party seeking his conviction "must prove him guilty beyond a reasonable doubt."

In civil contempt, the jurist added, proof need not be "beyond a reasonable doubt; but it is incumbent upon the party seeking the adjudication of contempt to prove guilt by clear and convincing evidence and not by a mere preponderance of evidence."

The court stated:

"The facts disclosed by the record in this case do not prove—either beyond a reasonable doubt or by clear and convincing evidence—that there has been wilful contempt of this court's order on the part of the union, by the action which it has taken or by the action which it has failed to take."

President Delays Action

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Truman declined today to say whether he will ask Congress for power to seize and operate the nation's coal mines if other means of settlement fail.

The chief executive gave a broad hint, however, that he still has power of seizure under the president's inherent authority.

The president told his news conference that the continuing coal strike is a very serious matter—an emergency.

He said that the government has followed the law to the letter and tried to enforce it.

Mr. Truman was told that there were reports current in Washington that papers were being prepared to ask for seizure of the mines.

Await Court Decision

The president said that he had no comment to make on the coal strike because the matter is still in the courts. He did not wish to comment or to give any suggestions of possible future moves to settle the controversy. Federal Judge Keech has taken the contempt trial of the United Mine Workers Union under advisement.

He said that the mechanics of requesting seizure powers are always available.

Asked again whether he has any remaining war powers, he said no, that they had all expired.

"What about your inherent powers?"

The president replied that there is a fine line to be drawn on the inherent authority of the president.

This was the first hint from the president, himself, that the inherent authorities of his office might still be used. He has stated that as far as he knew he had no powers of seizure, and wanted none.

The president was then told that Henry Ford II, the automobile manufacturer, had stated that not only the coal mines were closed down but the whole country would be closed down unless coal production was resumed swiftly.

"Do you agree?" he was asked.

"It Is An Emergency"

The president said that the situation is very serious—it is an emergency.

He said that the present labor law provides certain procedures to be taken by the president when he deems a "labor controversy has reached the point of an emergency. He said that he has followed that law and has tried to enforce it without success.

Upwards of 200,000 workers in coal-dependent industries have been laid off and the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow may decide to order another heavy slash in coal-burning railroad traffic.

Meantime, UMW President John L. Lewis was expected back in Washington today in time for a scheduled resumption of negotiating sessions with the mine owners at 2:30 p. m. on a new coal wage contract.

Union and industrial officials held a futile two-hour meeting Wednesday but Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching said that "nothing was accomplished at all."

British intelligence officers, in conjunction with the American FBI, were said meanwhile to have embarked on an extensive new spy hunt in an effort to round up associates and contacts of Fuchs.

The Daily Herald declared that security regulations will be completely revised and said some senior officers and others may retire or resign.

Scotland Yard, the home office and the ministry of supply heatedly denied that there was any laxity on their part which permitted Fuchs to hand over important data to Soviet agents.

COURT RULING HANDED DOWN THIS AFTERNOON

in the record; but this court may not convict on conjecture, being bound to act only on the evidence before it, which is insufficient to support a finding of either criminal or civil contempt.

"I, therefore, find the respondent union not guilty of civil or criminal contempt."

Failed To Prove

The court explained that in a criminal contempt proceeding the defendant is presumed innocent until proved guilty and the party seeking his conviction "must prove him guilty beyond a reasonable doubt."

In civil contempt, the jurist added, proof need not be "beyond a reasonable doubt; but it is incumbent upon the party seeking the adjudication of contempt to prove guilt by clear and convincing evidence and not by a mere preponderance of evidence."

The court stated:

"The facts disclosed by the record in this case do not prove—either beyond a reasonable doubt or by clear and convincing evidence—that there has been wilful contempt of this court's order on the part of the union, by the action which it has taken or by the action which it has failed to take."

President Delays Action

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Truman declined today to say whether he will ask Congress for power to seize and operate the nation's coal mines if other means of settlement fail.

The chief executive gave a broad hint, however, that he still has power of seizure under the president's inherent authority.

The president told his news conference that the continuing coal strike is a very serious matter—an emergency.

He said that the government has followed the law to the letter and tried to enforce it.

Mr. Truman was told that there were reports current in Washington that papers were being prepared to ask for seizure of the mines.

Await Court Decision

The president said that he had no comment to make on the coal strike because the matter is still in the courts. He did not wish to comment or to give any suggestions of possible future moves to settle the controversy. Federal Judge Keech has taken the contempt trial of the United Mine Workers Union under advisement.

He said that the mechanics of requesting seizure powers are always available.

Asked again whether he has any remaining war powers, he said no, that they had all expired.

"What about your inherent powers?"

The president replied that there is a fine line to be drawn on the inherent authority of the president.

This was the first hint from the president, himself, that the inherent authorities of his office might still be used. He has stated that as far as he knew he had no powers of seizure, and wanted none.

The president was then told that Henry Ford II, the automobile manufacturer, had stated that not only the coal mines were closed down but the whole country would be closed down unless coal production was resumed swiftly.

"Do you agree?" he was asked.

"It Is An Emergency"

The president said that the situation is very serious—it is an emergency.

He said that the present labor law provides certain procedures to be taken by the president when he deems a "labor controversy has reached the point of an emergency. He said that he has followed that law and has tried to enforce it without success.

Upwards of 200,000 workers in coal-dependent industries have been laid off and the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow may decide to order another heavy slash in coal-burning railroad traffic.

Meantime, UMW President John L. Lewis was expected back in Washington today in time for a scheduled resumption of negotiating sessions with the mine owners at 2:30 p. m. on a new coal wage contract.

Union and industrial officials held a futile two-hour meeting Wednesday but Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching said that "nothing was accomplished at all."

"Forgive me, but I cannot stand to be evicted. Also my illness and the debts we had in the last year are too much to bear. I don't know what the future has in store, so this is the best way out. Love, Arline."

The other victims of the tradegy were Gertrude Kraeutler, 17, a senior at West Orange High school; William, Jr., 15; Lois, 12; Carol, 4 and Gary, eight months.

Mrs. John Thornton of Orange, mother of Mrs. Kraeutler, said she and her husband were "completely puzzled" because her daughter was one to make light of troubles. She said her "mind must have snapped".

Citizens Want Vote On Consolidation

In order to get the sentiment of the voters of Pulaski township on school consolidation, a group of citizens visited the county commissioners and asked that a special ballot be provided.

John W. Conner, driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs and thirty days in jail. Out in three if the fine and costs are paid.

John Bridges will not be hunting for two years at least. He was up on a charge of shooting a human being in mistake for game. He was fined $100 and costs and denied the right to hunt for two years, with or without a license.

'No Absolute Security In Military Might'

PHILADELPHIA, March 2. —(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warned "There is no absolute security in military might."

"Weapons wear out and become obsolete," the famous wartime general said. "People become tired of the heavy burden and lose spirit. The other fellow can also conceivable develop greater weapons."

Eisenhower addressed a Temple University convocation Wednesday at which he and his brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president-elect of Pennsylvania State College, received honorary doctorates of laws.

Without referring to Russia by name, Eisenhower, now Columbia University president, declared:

World In Conflict

"The world is in conflict. There is a militant and dynamic power which openly announces that there is no place alongside it for a free system.

"However, we can live or think in terms of fear and terror. Let us never conceive of this nation as an armed camp or a police state.

"Every individual should say to himself: 'I am going to live a life as useful as I may and not spend it in fear and worry as to what could happen.'"

Defendant In Philadelphia Case Discharged By Court

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Judge Byron A. Milner Tuesday discharged Dominic Antonini in the third day of his trial on charges of falsifying account records in the Philadelphia amusement tax office.

Judge Milner ruled there was no evidence in the case to allow a jury to pass on the guilt or innocence of Antonini.

Three indictments had charged Antonini with falsifying books covering the years 1945 to 1947 inclusive.

New Heating System Now Being Installed

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(INS)—A million dollar heating system that can be converted from gas to oil within an hour will be completed late in November at the 26 million dollar Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

The unit being installed now, has three 4,000-horsepower gas heated boilers. Gas will be used to heat water for steam heat for all buildings but a special storage tank of oil is included to make possible any switch necessitated by a shortage.

Allegheny county decided on using gas for fuel because a consulting engineer estimated it would cost $18,700 yearly compared to a cost of between $21,850 and $27,450 for coal.

Boiler bay in Oregon was named for the boiler of a wrecked ship which came to rest in a cove there.

TENT HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Kuhn have been called to Owensburg, Ky., by the sudden death of her brother, Charley.

Miss Dorothy Craig of New Castle visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird and spoke to the young people at Mahoning church in the evening.

The Mahoning U. P. church held World Day of Prayer service at their church Friday afternoon. There was a good attendance, New Bedford and Lowellville churches participating. Mrs. Elmer Baird was in charge of the meeting.

FOR A REALLY CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING

...THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TIDE!

Just wash—wring out—hang up!

NOW A RINSE-FREE WASHDAY—thanks to Tide! All over America women are talking about the amazing fact that you can wash with Procter & Gamble's Tide—without any rinsing at all! Many women just plain don't believe it . . . and you can hardly blame them. It's the most revolutionary thing that ever happened to washday. But whether or not you find it hard to believe, it's absolutely true. With Tide in your washing machine, you can take your wash right out of the suds . . . wring it out . . . and hang it up CLEAN!

YES, REALLY CLEAN! You know how clean Tide washes your clothes with rinsing. Actually cleaner than anything else you can buy! Now try the same wonderful Tide without rinsing and compare the results. You'll be amazed to see how bright, fresh and clean your wash comes right from the wringer. Without rinsing!

SO, even if you do find it hard to believe, try it once. Get Tide today—and remember! Every package of Tide on your dealer's shelf right now will give you a dazzling clean wash without rinsing!

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT WASHING WITHOUT RINSING

1. Will this method get clothes really clean? Yes, because Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater—and clothes come from the wringer CLEAN . . . and actually as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.

2. Will white clothes come white? Yes, dazzling white! It is almost impossible to tell the difference between a white shirt washed with Tide and not rinsed—and one that has been rinsed.

3. How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you wash with Tide—without rinsing—clothes dry soft and fluffy . . . iron easily.

4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe . . . skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on your clothes.

"SAVES SO MUCH TIME ON WASHDAY!"

SAYS MRS. JOY MAYO OF PORTLAND, MAINE

"No more rinsing sure is wonderful news for every woman who washes clothes! It's such a timesaver to take the wash right from the Tide suds, put it through the wringer, and right onto the line! And everything looks so bright and clean, I just can't get over it!"

1. Will this method get clothes really clean? Yes, because Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater—and clothes come from the wringer CLEAN . . . and actually as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.

2. Will white clothes come white? Yes, dazzling white! It is almost impossible to tell the difference between a white shirt washed with Tide and not rinsed—and one that has been rinsed.

3. How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you wash with Tide—without rinsing—clothes dry soft and fluffy . . . iron easily.

4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe . . . skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on your clothes.

"SAVES SO MUCH TIME ON WASHDAY!"

SAYS MRS. JOY MAYO OF PORTLAND, MAINE

"No more rinsing sure is wonderful news for every woman who washes clothes! It's such a timesaver to take the wash right from the Tide suds, put it through the wringer, and right onto the line! And everything looks so bright and clean, I just can't get over it!"

SAME TIDE! SAME PACKAGE! NEW MIRACLE!

TIDE GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY OTHER WASHING PRODUCT OF ITS TYPE WITHOUT RINSING

THE CROWS OF SKY HILL

A crow roost or rookery in Lawrence County? Yes, and less than eight miles from downtown New Castle. Known by but a handful of our local citizens, this natural phenomenon enjoys considerable fame among the outdoorsmen of the Tri-state area.

Most people have been taught to look upon the crow as a destroyer of crops and baby birds. However, it has now been definitely determined that crows living in farm country are not the black hearted villains so often pictured.

Crows in a county such as ours are definite assets to the farmer. Sure, they destroy some sprouting corn as well as fledgling birds and cottontails still in the nest, but they make up for it by destroying incalculable hordes of insects, most of them of species inimical to the farmer's crops. Huge quantities of cutworms, grasshoppers, various species of beetles and even mice are all grist for the crow's voracious appetite.

Let's return to the roost. On a wooded elevation known as Sky Hill, in Mahoning township, is the site of this vast "settling ground" for most all of the crows in these parts.

Before the rookery was disturbed by repeated but ineffectual forays by gunners, it was said that the total population exceeded 100,000. The latest estimate made by Bob Ford, the wildlife photographer who has intensively studied the site, is about 28,000.

What has happened to the rest of the former vast conclave of birds? Most of those driven away have scattered to found smaller and it is hoped, temporary rookeries. Many of the crows will undoubtedly gradually make their way back to the ancestral roost, providing, of course, that it remains unmolested.

On most any evening this time of the year, motorists traveling in the vicinity of Mt. Jackson, Edinburgh, the Harbor and other points throughout the district, will often see strings and loose flocks of crows streaming back to their Sky Hill roost.

When the hour approaches for the birds to "settle", a noisier situation would be difficult to find. Bedlam prevails from early evening until the advent of darkness. It seems that all the choice bits of gossip gathered during the day must be vociferously exchanged before night falls.

During the full moon in February a visit to the roost at 9 p. m., proved interesting. It was supposed that all the crows would be sound asleep. But, much to my surprise I heard distinct sleepy cries and once or twice bunches of them moved from one tree to another. Since I had no desire to disturb the birds, I at once turned back, but it was evident that even at that late hour some of the birds had not settled down for the night.

The vast farming areas of our land have caused the crows to increase tremendously. Today there are far more of them than ever. And despite the hundreds of thousands annually killed by gunners, dynamited at their roosts and even poisoned, it is doubtful if man can ever completely eliminate them. Crows are smart. As Henry Ward Beecher once said, if men wore feathers and wings very few of them would be clever enough to be crows.

BYWAYS

The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that the dollar and cents value of birds as insect destroyers alone runs about $350,000,000 annually, or about one-fourth of the total annual damage caused by insects, a whopping $1,590,040,500. . . . Sucker fishing has been good in the Little Beaver. . . . Keep April the 13th open for the county sportsmen's banquet.

Field Director At Kiwanis Club

Miss Gay Guthrie, field director of the American Red Cross at Deshon Hospital was the speaker at the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at the noon luncheon meeting in the Castleton Hotel.

Miss Guthrie told of her work in co-ordinating activities for the veterans stationed in the hospital, spoke of the wide spread work of the Red Cross and stressed the necessity of the 1950 campaign for funds for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Louise McConnell, head of the Lawrence County chapter was present at the luncheon. President Al H. Mellor was in charge of the meeting.

AUTO LIFE

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — The automobile, like the old gray mare, "ain't what it used to be" for a very good reason. She's more than twice the car she was a generation ago. Today, whether the vehicle is ready to fall apart or is fresh off the assembly line, the chances are that it will have more than 12 years of service and 103,000 miles behind it before reaching the junk heap. This compares with an average life span of about six years and 25,750 miles for the car of 1925. These figures are cited by W. L. Aiken, chief automotive engineer at SKF Industries, Inc.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—When a leopard changes his spots it's old stuff, but when a mink sheds his tail—that's news.

Miami Beach Furrier Joseph Pinta previewed in New York a magic mink "jacket" with sleeves that turn into muffs and tail-trimmings that drop off intentionally.

The "jacket" is shaped like a cape-stole, its back dipping to a point at the waistline, its front falling in long panels to the hemline of a daytime dress.

But mink coils can be snapped on under the shoulder to provide elbow length sleeves for evening; when detached, they are used as muffs or wide cuffs on cloth coats.

And bands of dangling mink tails can be snapped onto the ends of the front panels for extra-dressy chic.

Designer Pinta points out that against Miami's cooler breezes, it's a swell shield—for the well-heeled!

The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that the dollar and cents value of birds as insect destroyers alone runs about $350,000,000 annually, or about one-fourth of the total annual damage caused by insects, a whopping $1,590,040,500. . . . AUTO LIFE

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — The automobile, like the old gray mare, "ain't what it used to be" for a very good reason. She's more than twice the car she was a generation ago. Today, whether the vehicle is ready to fall apart or is fresh off the assembly line, the chances are that it will have more than 12 years of service and 103,000 miles behind it before reaching the junk heap. This compares with an average life span of about six years and 25,750 miles for the car of 1925. These figures are cited by W. L. Aiken, chief automotive engineer at SKF Industries, Inc.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—When a leopard changes his spots it's old stuff, but when a mink sheds his tail—that's news.

Miami Beach Furrier Joseph Pinta previewed in New York a magic mink "jacket" with sleeves that turn into muffs and tail-trimmings that drop off intentionally.

The "jacket" is shaped like a cape-stole, its back dipping to a point at the waistline, its front falling in long panels to the hemline of a daytime dress.

But mink coils can be snapped on under the shoulder to provide elbow length sleeves for evening; when detached, they are used as muffs or wide cuffs on cloth coats.

And bands of dangling mink tails can be snapped onto the ends of the front panels for extra-dressy chic.

Designer Pinta points out that against Miami's cooler breezes, it's a swell shield—for the well-heeled!

U.S. Freighter Docks At Kobe After Attack

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

KOBE, Japan, March 2.—The American freighter Pioneer Dale docked today at Kobe with 200 bullet and shell holes in her superstructure, funnel and life boats from a bombing and strafing attack by five "unidentified" planes off the Chinese Communist port of Tsingtao.

Officers and crewmen of the Pioneer Line vessel said three B-25 bombers dropped one missile each in the vicinity of the ship Monday and then two P-51 fighters swept in at masthead height to strafe the freighter.

At the same time, the crewmen said, bombers flying at 5,000-foot altitudes dropped explosives on both side of the Isbrandtsen Lines' freighter Flying Clipper which was anchored near the Pioneer Dale.

The raiders then bombed Tsingtao, the seamen added, but avoided a pier where the Pacific Far East Lines' merchant ship New World Victory was docked because of heavy Chinese Communist anti-aircraft fire.

Chief Edward Jurista has been sent to Oil City where a Navy recruiting office will be opened. Up until this time the Oil City-Franklin area has been serviced by members of the New Castle office.

Announcement of various programs to be heard on the air honoring Girl Scouts birthday was made by Mrs. James Matthews. Mrs. Forsyth took over the latter part of the meeting with a very interesting course on firebuilding being given as a part of the outdoor course under way. Taps closed the meeting.

Inspection Is Made Of Several Buildings By Fire Officials

Safety Director Richard I. Davis and Fire Chief Herman Steinbrink made an inspection of several buildings which house tenants for the purpose of ascertaining possible fire hazards.

Mr. Davis stated that if hazards were discovered such will be reported to council for the purpose of having councilmen declare such buildings a nuisance, and no doubt council will order the "nuisance" abated.

Relative to the Dean block, Mr. Davis said it would be one of the structures inspected. One person died of a heart attack and several were hospitalized due to shock in a Sunday morning blaze on the second floor.

"Party Walls" Stand

In regard to the Clendenin fire Monday, Mr. Davis stated:

"The walls of the fire-swept Clendenin structure and the Peoples bank are what is known as 'party walls' and will have to be left standing, because removal at this time would affect the bank structure."

He said the front wall of the destroyed building is unsafe and must be removed. That section will be roped off for the protection of pedestrians.

Debris has been removed from North Mercer street and traffic is again normal, north and south, in Mercer street.

Miss Gay Gutherie Speaks To Optimists On Red Cross Work

Miss Gay Guthrie, field director of the American Red Cross at Deshon hospital, spoke at the regular semi-monthly dinner meeting of the Optimist club at the Leslie hotel Wednesday evening.

Miss Guthrie was introduced by Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Chapter of the Red Cross. Mrs. McConnell told of the satisfaction that the local chapter had in helping to distribute the toys that the Optimist club repaired at Christmas time.

She cited one instance where one family would have had no Christmas presents for the children if it had not been for the contributions of the club.

She told of the work that is done by the Red Cross during a disaster and about the follow up work that has to be done before things are back to normal.

Jim Calahan announced that the "Mists" are leading the "Opti" 116 to 82 in the club attendance contest.

It was also announced that the party for the installation of the new officers wil be held May 24.

U.S. Freighter Docks At Kobe After Attack

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

KOBE, Japan, March 2.—The American freighter Pioneer Dale docked today at Kobe with 200 bullet and shell holes in her superstructure, funnel and life boats from a bombing and strafing attack by five "unidentified" planes off the Chinese Communist port of Tsingtao.

Officers and crewmen of the Pioneer Line vessel said three B-25 bombers dropped one missile each in the vicinity of the ship Monday and then two P-51 fighters swept in at masthead height to strafe the freighter.

At the same time, the crewmen said, bombers flying at 5,000-foot altitudes dropped explosives on both side of the Isbrandtsen Lines' freighter Flying Clipper which was anchored near the Pioneer Dale.

The raiders then bombed Tsingtao, the seamen added, but avoided a pier where the Pacific Far East Lines' merchant ship New World Victory was docked because of heavy Chinese Communist anti-aircraft fire.

Urges Effort To Outlaw H-Bomb Use

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., urged in a Senate speech Wednesday that the Atlantic council take over the job of inducing the Kremlin to join in outlawing Hydrogen-Atomic weapons.

The congressional atomic chairman called for an immediate meeting of the western democracies defense council, set up under the North Atlantic Security Pact, to "formulate a concrete peace program" and publicize it throughout the world.

McMahon proposed also that the next meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, at which Hydrogen-Atomic peace will be sought, be held in Moscow.

He announced he will swing his committee into action by calling a series of closed-door meetings to review the pending U. N. atomic-control plan in relation to the Hydrogen bomb threat.

The top atomic legislator has proposed a 50-billion dollar global aid program if Russia would come into a well-safeguarded pact to ban mass-destruction weapons.

Against Dealing Alone

McMahon again declared against direct dealings with Russia alone —a method suggested by Senate Armed Services Chairman Tydings (D) Md.

In an indirect reference to Winston Churchill's call for "high level" talks to end an Atomic-Hydrogen arms race, McMahon said that the idea of a moral crusade has picked up momentum at a "startling rate" in France, Belgium, Italy and Canada. He said it "swept Britain on election eve."

McMahon proposed that the Atlantic Council be given use of all available instruments for peace—including use of the Voice of America facilities to bring the pressure of world opinion on the Kremlin.

McMahon suggested that the free world print and distribute leaflets in all languages, produce motion pictures and promote forums of debate wherever it can as further ammunition in the battle for peace.

The senator again painted a bleak picture of the Atomic-Hydrogen threat. He declared that the new weapons have dirprived the nation of its ability "to defend fully its people and its territory." He continued:

"Unless we find a method to halt this mad armament race, we have no assurances that Continental United States will not experience a hideous day of infamy."

Class Pays Dues In 12 Minutes

Some kind of a record was set for dues paying by the senior class of the New Castle high school Wednesday.

President "Chuck" Mancine announced to the class that dues were due and would be taken during one period. Every student in the class, 506 altogether, had paid his dues and had a receipt in 12 minutes.

Gen. Eisenhower Has Word Of Warning

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warns that Americans may destroy their way of life through "inordinate" defense spending to preserve it.

Eisenhower, Columbia university, told a Temple university convocation:

"We hear a great deal these days about the A-bomb and the H-bomb—but national bankruptcy must also be considered."

The wartime commander added:

"There is no absolute security in military might. People become tired of the heavy burden and lose spirit. Let us never conceive of this nation as an armed camp or a police state."

ECONOMY CAR

SYDNEY, Aus. — (INS) — The Hartnett car, second to be made entirely in Australia, will be on sale next month. It's price will be equivalent to about $970 excluding sales tax. The new car is a four seater and will allow between 50 and 60 miles to the gallon of gas.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Urges Effort To Outlaw H-Bomb Use

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., urged in a Senate speech Wednesday that the Atlantic council take over the job of inducing the Kremlin to join in outlawing Hydrogen-Atomic weapons.

The congressional atomic chairman called for an immediate meeting of the western democracies defense council, set up under the North Atlantic Security Pact, to "formulate a concrete peace program" and publicize it throughout the world.

McMahon proposed also that the next meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, at which Hydrogen-Atomic peace will be sought, be held in Moscow.

He announced he will swing his committee into action by calling a series of closed-door meetings to review the pending U. N. atomic-control plan in relation to the Hydrogen bomb threat.

The top atomic legislator has proposed a 50-billion dollar global aid program if Russia would come into a well-safeguarded pact to ban mass-destruction weapons.

Against Dealing Alone

McMahon again declared against direct dealings with Russia alone —a method suggested by Senate Armed Services Chairman Tydings (D) Md.

In an indirect reference to Winston Churchill's call for "high level" talks to end an Atomic-Hydrogen arms race, McMahon said that the idea of a moral crusade has picked up momentum at a "startling rate" in France, Belgium, Italy and Canada. He said it "swept Britain on election eve."

McMahon proposed that the Atlantic Council be given use of all available instruments for peace—including use of the Voice of America facilities to bring the pressure of world opinion on the Kremlin.

McMahon suggested that the free world print and distribute leaflets in all languages, produce motion pictures and promote forums of debate wherever it can as further ammunition in the battle for peace.

The senator again painted a bleak picture of the Atomic-Hydrogen threat. He declared that the new weapons have dirprived the nation of its ability "to defend fully its people and its territory." He continued:

"Unless we find a method to halt this mad armament race, we have no assurances that Continental United States will not experience a hideous day of infamy."

Class Pays Dues In 12 Minutes

Some kind of a record was set for dues paying by the senior class of the New Castle high school Wednesday.

President "Chuck" Mancine announced to the class that dues were due and would be taken during one period. Every student in the class, 506 altogether, had paid his dues and had a receipt in 12 minutes.

Gen. Eisenhower Has Word Of Warning

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warns that Americans may destroy their way of life through "inordinate" defense spending to preserve it.

Eisenhower, Columbia university, told a Temple university convocation:

"We hear a great deal these days about the A-bomb and the H-bomb—but national bankruptcy must also be considered."

The wartime commander added:

"There is no absolute security in military might. People become tired of the heavy burden and lose spirit. Let us never conceive of this nation as an armed camp or a police state."

ECONOMY CAR

SYDNEY, Aus. — (INS) — The Hartnett car, second to be made entirely in Australia, will be on sale next month. It's price will be equivalent to about $970 excluding sales tax. The new car is a four seater and will allow between 50 and 60 miles to the gallon of gas.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Cardinal Spellman Celebrates Mass At St. Peter's Main Altar

ROME, March 2.—(INS)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, celebrated mass today at the main altar of St. Peter's and Pope Pius, on the occasion of his 74th birthday, warned that a doctrine of hate is overcoming the world.

Pro-American demonstrations marked Cardinal Spellman's visit to the Basilica, where he twice entered the Holy Door before saying mass. Some 600 American pilgrims who came to Rome for Holy Year indulgences followed the cardinal in procession to the church.

Pope Pius celebrated mass as usual in his private chapel. Some of the pontiff's relatives attended the birthday mass.

Later his holiness addressed 370 Lenten preachers. In his talk he lamented the fact that "extraordinary duties" and tasks connected with Holy Year observances compelled him to "ration" his speeches.

ROME, March 2.—(INS)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, celebrated mass today at the main altar of St. Peter's and Pope Pius, on the occasion of his 74th birthday, warned that a doctrine of hate is overcoming the world.

Pro-American demonstrations marked Cardinal Spellman's visit to the Basilica, where he twice entered the Holy Door before saying mass. Some 600 American pilgrims who came to Rome for Holy Year indulgences followed the cardinal in procession to the church.

Pope Pius celebrated mass as usual in his private chapel. Some of the pontiff's relatives attended the birthday mass.

Later his holiness addressed 370 Lenten preachers. In his talk he lamented the fact that "extraordinary duties" and tasks connected with Holy Year observances compelled him to "ration" his speeches.

Rockwell Touch Aids Many Firms

Industrial Genius Speaks Here March 9

Genius in industry does not always receive the acclaim that genius in art or science or literature does. The glamor of a hit play or the success of a best seller usually bring the playwright or writer national prominence.

In the case of Col. Willard F. Rockwell, who comes to New Castle March 9, his industrial genius has been recognized in the United States for many years. He will be the guest here of the Economic and Business Foundation and the Greater New Castle asociation. He will speak at a public dinner honoring him in the Cathedral.

A New Englander

Col. Rockwell was born in Boston and was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. As a student and after graduation he was an engineer and executive for the New England Telephone company and later entered the consulting engineering field, being employed by many small and large companies on management and engineering problems.

In 1916 he went to Cleveland, where he became vice president in charge of engineering and manufacturing for th Torbenson Axle Co. In 1919 he formed the Wisconsin Parts company at Oshkosh, Wis., which was merged with the Timken-Detroit Axle Co. In 1933 he became president of the company and in 1940 chairman of the board.

In 1926 he organized the Equitable Meter company and Manufacturing company in Pittsburgh, which was merged with the Pittsburgh Meter company to become the Pittsburgh Equitable Meter company, of which he is now chairman of the board.

Local Industries

Col. Rockwell is interested in three companies operating in New Castle. The Bossert company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Timken-Detroit Axle company, of which he is chairman of the board. He is also chairman of the board of Standard Steel Spring company and a director of the United Engineering and Foundry company.

Other companies in which he is a director are Hupp corporation of Detroit, Peoples First National Bank and Trust company of Pittsburgh, American Mutual Liability Insurance company, Boston, Commercial National Bank and Trust company of New York, Le Roi company, Milwaukee, and other companies.

During the war Col. Rockwell served as director of production of the United States Maritime commission, a member of the Executive committee of the Army and Navy Munitions board, and on the Requirements committee of the War Production board. As director of production for the Maritime commission, he was instrumental in the extraordinary merchant shipbuilding record.

The dinner in the Cathedral March 9 honoring him should find a capacity crowd attending. He is without any question one of the industrial giants of the nation today.

The dinner is open to all who care to attend.

It costs an average of 4.5 cents per pound to cut and wrap meat for self-service counters, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Portersville Rally Will Feature Film

The regular meeting of the Portersville Youth for Christ will be held on Saturday, March 4, at 8:00 p. m. in the Portersville United Presbyterian church. Walter Bauder will be in charge of the meeting.

The program will consist of the showing of the film, "The First Christian Martyr" and special music by the Young People's choir of the Harmony Baptist church.

The Youth for Christ will also sponsor a special service on the evening of March 9, 1950—Thursday, at 8 p. m., in the Portersville U. P. church. Lacy Hall, assistant to the Youth for Christ in Philadelphia, will be the speaker for this special program.

Miss Arlene Blank and Miss Ann Cooper have been appointed to the staff of the Student Handbook at Bucknell university, where both are juniors.

HARVEST WOODLOT TREES

Only about 100 trees on the average farm woodlot will develop into 18-inch trees suitable for saw timber. F. T. Murphey, extension forester of the Pennsylvania State College, says that the other 400 should be thinned out gradually and used or sold for pulpwood, firewood, mine props, or logs.

DRAIN WET SOIL

Draining the wet spots on the farm is an economical practice. C. G. Burress, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State College, reports that most farmers who have installed tile drains figure the cost will be paid in increased crop production in three to five years.

Death Of Fiance Cause Of Arrest

WEST LOS ANGELES, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Mrs. Mae Ingraham, divorced wife of an heir to the watch fortune, was arrested today on a charge of suspicion of murder in the slaying of her fiance in her West Los Angeles home on the eve of their scheduled marriage.

The prospective bridegroom, Charles McCarthy, 57, a one-armed veteran, was killed mystesiously shortly before midnight last night in the kitchen of the bride-to-be's model home while eating a fried egg.

Detectives said he apparently was struck on the head from behind with a heavy instrument while seated at the kitchen table.

Large G.I. Groups Will Be Missing In College Next Fall

A slight drop in enrollment for the second semester at Westminster college is the forerunner of a more substantial decrease in college population next fall, college officials here pointed out this week.

Although present indications are that the college will enroll one of the largest freshmen classes in the history of the school next September, this influx of freshmen students will not offset the drop in overall enrollment due to the absence of large G. I. groups on the campus next year, Dr. Will W. Orr, college president, said. The college will graduate its last large veterans group in June.

Enrollment figures for the 1950-51 term are expected to drop below the 1,000 mark for the first time since the influx of veterans under the G. I. program. Present enrollment at the college is 1,121, including 679 men and 442 women. The average enrollment at the college prior to the war was around 700 students.

Eighty-five new students were registered for the second semester at the college. Mid-term graduations and dropouts gave the college a decrease in enrollment of 21 students under the first semester.

Mrs. Jessie Benson has been admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment.

IDLED BY COAL STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—More than 1,000 Reading Co. workers in Reading, Pa., and St. Clair, Pa., will be laid off next Wednesday because of the coal strike.

Carrier officials announced the locomotive and car shops in Reading and the car shops in St. Clair must close down. Uncertainty of business and coal shortages were cited as the main reasons.

Compulsory Arbitration To Be Started

TRENTON, N. J., March 2.—(INS)—Compulsory arbitration was to get under way today in the New Jersey Bell Telephone company's dispute with the Communications Workers of America.

The company was technically seized by Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll late yesterday under the state's public utility anti-strike law.

An executive order "seizing" the company was signed by the governor after negotiations between the union and management failed to bring a settlement.

The 12,000 New Jersey members of the union had voted to strike at any time. They are demanding a $7 a week wage increase, a 35-hour work week and other benefits.

Gov. Driscoll said that arbitration of the dispute may very well provide a pattern which will avert the nationwide strike threatened by the union for April 25.

The union's 250,000 members called off for 60 days at the request of President Truman the strike scheduled for Feb. 24.

THEFTS CHARGED TO BOYS

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police reported today the rounding up of seven teen-age boys last night in connection with the thefts of at least 50 automobiles in the last three months.

Police said the youths, ranging in age from 13 to 17, confessed the thefts, chiefly those of mourners parked near funeral homes in the Pittsburgh area.

YWCA Seminar Well Attended

Purpose Of YW Program Theme

Y. W. C. A. orientation seminar opened Wednesday in the Y. W. auditorium at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Roy A. Long, president, in charge.

Mrs. James A. Gillespie, co-chairman of the Y. W. religious education committee, led a worship service, emphasis being placed on volunteer's attitudes and how she must be concerned for all people.

Mrs. Long gave a resume of the Y. W. history, in the absence of Mrs. George D. Morris, who was unable to attend due to illness. Mrs. A. L. Hoffmaster, a new board members spoke on the reasons she decided to run in the Y. W. election board.

"Objectives of the Y. W. C. A." was a talk given by Mrs. Long, wherein she stressed the importance of the basic standards as adopted at the convention last March. The Woman's Press, the Y. W. official publication, was discussed.

Mrs. D. T. McIntosh distributed questionnaires dealing with questions of the world, Y. W., the national and local organizations. In reading answers, a controversy arose whether or not all people have prejudices. It was agreed that all people do have prejudices, but a mature individual will meet them face to face. Mrs. L. M. Clark won a prize for having the most correct answers.

The public affairs program was described as important by Mrs. Riley Bollard, for the Y. W. shows concern standards that will equalize and make conditions for all people. She spoke of membership free-sharing and national convention recommendation that the membership fee be raised from $1.00 to $1.50. Fifty cents would go directly for national work. Already 200 associations have adopted this plan.

Mrs. Clark McClelland spoke about her work with teen-agers, and Mrs. R. G. Eakin about her work with adult clubs. Miss Shirley Webber of the Elm street branch was unable to tell of her program, due to important dental examinations at her branch yesterday morning.

Mrs. Paul F. Butz spoke on the many duplications of people on Y. W. committees. She urged the seeking of committee members from many areas; the Y. W. files are a good resource.

Miss Dorothy Stewart spoke on the partnership basis existing between the volunteer and staff worker.

New January Record In Milk Production

HARRISBURG — Milk production on Pennsylvania farms during January was at a record high level for the month, totaling 467,000,000 pounds or 10 per cent above the previous January record a year earlier, the State Department of Agriculture announced today following surveys by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

Seasonally, milk production in the state was up four per cent from December. Unusually mild weather, liberal feeding of good quality concentrates and roughages, improved livestock and better herd management contributed to the increased milk flow, the department said. Most hay being fed is now of better quality than available last year, dairy farmers report.

Continual cannon fire has been heard definitely 100 miles away, and is thought to have been heard as far as 300.

NEW YORK, March 2.—David E. Lilienthal charged Wednesday that a "cult of doom" is attempting to scare the American people with predictions of "end of the world" atomic warfare and said such statements play into the hands of the communists.

The recently-resigned Atomic Energy Commission chairman said international peace cannot be achieved by "waves of utter fear". Nor, he said, will scary "word pictures" frighten the "iron rules of a large part of the world".

Caution Uttered

Lilienthal, who spoke in New York's Town Hall, cautioned that the current "wallowing in the hazards of atomic warfare" could make America less alert and keep our military strength lagging.

"This," the former AEC head declared, "the more flamboyant of the scare-the-dopes school ought to realize."

Lilienthal said he is not discouraged by the "oracles of annihilation" who he charged are trying to encourage a mood of "hopelessness and futility and confusion".

He also asserted:

"If we believe the bigger our bomb the safer we will be, this is a mountainous error to the security of our country."

He told his listeners he looks upon atomic energy as one of the greatest advances in all the history of man's search for new knowledge, despite its dark and somber side.

Want No Part

He continued:

"I want no part of the new cult of doom that I see rising all about us. I want no part of any effort to scare the people of the United States, for good reasons or for bad reasons.

"The chief consequence of this wave of headline after headline about doom and utter destruction, of one-night wars and the horrors that lie in atomic destruction is this: A growing sense of confusion and helplessness among our own people.

"And hopelessness and helplessness are the very opposite of what we need. These are emotions that play right into the hands of destructive forces."

Lilienthal suggested what is needed is "good, sensible conduct" as exemplified, he said, by President Truman.

The chief executive, Lilienthal stated, never uses "scare words that invoke deep fear or hopelessness" when he discusses the possible dangers the United States faces.

MILLBURN

"Hobbies and pastimes" were given as roll call responses at the last meeting of Millburn Grange. A skit given by Rose Wilson and Ethel Decker, poem by Peggy Woods and a valentine contest won by H. W. Johnston completed the program for the lecture hour. The dance given by the grange on Friday evening was a pleasant and successful affair.

The Mercer United Presbyterian church was the scene of a quiet wedding witnessed by the members of the immediate families and Rev. and Mrs. Ohl of the Harrisville church, when Mildred Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cummings became the bride of William H. Critchlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Critchlow of Harrisville, on Tuesday, Feb. 21. Rev. Ferdinand Vogan, the bride's pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony. The bride, gowned in a gray gabardine suit with black accessories with a corsage of red roses, was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Burns, while Dean Critchlow served his brother as best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cummings home. The young couple have postponed a wedding trip and are occupying their new home near Harrisville.

Mrs. Harold Sewall and Mrs. Fred Black of New Castle and Mrs. Paul Frankenburg and their children spent Wednesday, Feb. 22 with their mother, Mrs. Scott Frankenburg, in celebration of her birthday. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Frankenburg wth Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Winger and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cooper were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Attle.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hume and family were recent guests of Mrs. Maude Stevenson and family of Grove City. George Heim of Sharon was a dinner guest in the Hume home last week.

D. E. Latshaw spent the weekend at home, Mr. Latshaw, who with other Standard Oil employes is taking cathodic training and is based at Lima, O., recently spent a weekend in Tulsa, Okla.

Former residents of the neighborhood from Mercer and Grove City united with present residents in enjoying the annual oyster supper of the community Monday evening. A social time, with cards for those who wished to play, followed the supper. About 90 were served. The committee for 1951 is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fink, Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. William Critchlow.

Mrs. Emma Bougher left last week for several weeks sojourn in Florida. She was accompanied as far as Pittsburgh by her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Armstrong and Mrs. E. L. Ramsey and Mrs. D. E. Latshaw

Mr and Mrs. J. R. Patterson visited Mr. and Mrs Clifford Bortz of Greenville and Mrs Rachel Taylor and family of Jackson Center Sunday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Patterson accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Humphrey and Mrs. F. R. Munnell attended the February meeting of the D.M.C. club at the home of Mrs. Charles Livingston.

Miss Mary and Jared Winger of Mercer spent Thursday evening in the Robert Patterson home.

Stephen Lukacs was in Johnstown last week for a recorder's committee meeting. Mrs. Lukacs visited her mother, Mrs. Hannah Chess, in Greenville, Sunday.

Walmo Services Are Attracting Many

Revival meetings which are in progress at the Walmo (Coaltown) Free Methodist church are progressing nicely with many attending each service. Rev. H. E. Baker of Salamanca, N. Y., evangelist, is known as the second Whitefield due his unusual ability to draw word pictures and he presents the Gospel.

Mrs. Edith Woods of Port Allegheny, Pa., is song leader, soloist, children and young people's worker. She is conference director of evangelism of the Oil City Conference of which the New Castle churches are a part. Mrs. Woods will conduct a service at seven o'clock each evening beginning tonight which will be of special interest to the children and young people, consisting of felt-o-gram, object lessons and choruses.

The meetings will continue through Sunday, March 12, with services every night, and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Hickory Township Paper Collection

Boy Scouts of troop 44 will collect paper on Saturday, March 18, throughout Hickory township, it is announced. All newspapers and magazines should be bundled separately.

The proceeds of the collection will be used to aid in sending two boys to the National Jamboree at Valley Forge in June.

Arthur W. Nesbitt Receives Promotion

Arthur W. Nesbitt is the new assistant county agent of Clarion county. He began his duties on February 16 and will be associated with County Agent F. K. Miller, with offices in the court house, Clarion.

Mr. Nesbitt went to Clarion county from the Pennsylvania State college, where his major study was agricultural economies and farm management.

He also has been active in campus activities and as a member of the Delta Theta Sigma fraternity and the Agricultural Economies club. In his home community near Enon Valley in Lawrence county, Nesbitt belonged to Big Beaver grange.

He was graduated from the North Beaver township high school, where he studied vocational agriculture and belonged to the Future Farmers of America.

He attended Geneva college for a year and a half before transferring to the Pennsylvania State college. In the army for more than a year in 1945-46, Nesbitt served first in an officers' separation center and later as supply sergeant in the field artillery.

EXTENSION AIDS

More than a million Pennsylvanians were aided directly by agricultural and home economics extension activities of the Pennsylvania State College last year.

The reason "SALADA" TEA-BAGS are so much more enjoyable than others is that there is more tea and finer quality tea in each bag.

Westminster Invited To NAIB Tournament At Kansas City

Almost Assured Titans Will Accept Bid Friday

Westminster college's tall Titans have received a bid to the National Association Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, March 13 through the 18th, it was revealed by head floor coach and Athletic Director "Pappy" Washabaugh at the college last night.

Acceptance by Westminster (21 and 2) of the bid is but a matter of formality which will come Friday, it is strongly indicated.

Conference Friday

Washabaugh has scheduled a conference with Ross Ellis, Westminster business manager for Friday at which time the various details of the trip to the mid-west metropolis will be discussed pro and con.

The Titans meet four opponents on the regular 1949-50 card before they entrain for Kansas City—meeting Carnegie Tech at home Saturday night, then hit the road for a game Monday at Franklin-Marshall, Tuesday at Millersville and Wednesday at Bucknell. The Titans could windup with a 25 an 2 record if they win the remainder.

Harbored Garden Hope

It is no secret that Westminster has harbored a hope for a bid to the National Invitation at Madison Square Garden, but will likely welcome the bid to the Kansas City tourney. The bid to La Salle and Duquesne to the Gardens will no doubt leave the Titans out at New York, as that makes two Pennsylvania teams already invited.

Other schools invited to the Kansas City tourney at this writing are: Hamline, the defending champions; Brooklyn; Murray State Teachers, of Kentucky; Arkansas Poly; Oklahoma East Central State, and Kalamazoo.

Hank A.C. Advances In Ohio Tournament

Hank A. C. advanced to the quarter-finals in the Courtland, O., tournament last night by defeating Middlefield, O., 39-34 in a third round game.

The Hank's were leading 19-15 at the end of the half but were trailing 29-26 at the end of the third frame. A rally in the final minutes of play gave the Hank's the win.

Harp Janacone was high for the locals with 17 points. Wayne Gray had 11. Gooding, of Middlefield had 14. They play again in the tournament next Wednesday.

County Baseball League To Meet

The Lawrence County Baseball league will hold a meeting at the Sporting Goods store Thursday, March 16, it is announced by Alex Samuels, league president.

Wampum Juniors Win At Struthers; Enter Semi-Finals Tonight

Wampum junior high school defeated Niles Washington junior high 51-48 in the quarter finals of the Struthers Junior High tournament last night.

The Indian Juniors jumped off to a 22-9 lead in the first quarter and were able to hang on to the lead, though Niles outscored them in every period from then on.

The losers had four players over the six-foot mark and were one of the pre-tournament favorites. They had lost only one game this season up until last night and had defeated every major junior high team in Mahoning county.

Tournament Dark Horse

The victory makes Wampum the real dark horse of the tournament. Butler Hennon's little boys weren't expected to go far against the best junior highs in the district by most tournament officials.

Ron Buccelli and John Swoggers paced the Indian Juniors in scoring with 12 points apiece, followed by Don Hennon with 11. Collins was high for Niles with 17.

Wampum meets Salem in a semi-final game tonight beginning at 7:30. Salem eliminated McDonald, Girard and Alliance Frosh to gain the semi-finals.

The winner of this game will meet the winner of the Memorial-Hayes game for the championship Friday night. The losers of these two games will meet in a consolation game before the championship game.

Arizin Boasts Scoring Mark

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Paul Arizin, Villanova College center, boasted a new major college single season scoring record today with a total of 649 points.

Arizin scored 33 points as Villanova recorded an impressive 82-62 win over Toledo's highly-rated basketball five at the Penn Palestra last night.

The former mark, 636 points, was hung up by Yale's Tony Lavelli last season.

In the opener of a double-header, Columbia University nosed out the University of Pennsylvania, 50-47, in an eastern intercollegiate league game.

Ohio State Gets Invite To NCAA

CHICAGO, Mar. 2. — (INS)—Ohio State's basketball team, winner of the Big Ten title, was selected Tuesday to represent district four in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual championship tournament.

The high scoring Buckeye squad which swept through a rough western conference schedule with a record of 11 victories and one defeat, will play in the Eastern Regional Tournament at New York on March 23 and 25. The Western tournament will be played in Kansas City on March 24-25.

The championship game will be played in New York on March 28.

Only other team thus far selected for the NCAA meet in undefeated Holy Cross of Boston, representing District 1.

Ohio State's over-all season record was 19 victories and three defeats.

Pozza-Clements Battle Friday In Ellwood Ring

Frankie Moran To Fight Dave Pinto

Dolled up, physically and mentally, Billy Pozza, who has seldom been vanquished, and Johnny Clements, "run o' the mine" fighter of Dayton, have ended training for their heavyweight bout docketed for eight rounds in the Ellwood City high school gymnasium Friday night. The card is braced by Frankie Moran, New Castle slugger, who tackles Dave Pinto in a welterweight six-round semi-final whirl.

Clements is no Jackie Lyons, but is said to hold a decision over Tommy Woodward, who suffered a technical knockout, aided by a cut above an eye, when he boxed the "Ellwood Belter" some weeks ago in Ellwood City.

George (Buster) Smith, who fought once in the Arena here, will exchange 170-pound wallops against Chuck Davis of Johnstown in a five-round bout.

There will be two four-rounders as follows:

Billy Parker, Monaca, vs Wally Hally, Johnstown, at 155, and Little Chief, Columbus, against Eddie Marsh, Altoona, at 126.

The Loccisano brothers are promoting the fistic attraction for the Lions club which is keeping boxing alive in this district.

The Lions believe they have a good attraction because Pozza is popular, and more so since he offered to take on Rizieri Ronzi of Youngstown at any time and anywhere.

The Jefferson A. C. of New Castle holds a contract for them to fight but because of Ronzi's alleged lethargy in going through with the match, may forget it and toss the fight document into the waste basket if his manager, one Chicio, doesn't agree to the match soon.

Kiner Will See Action Today

Home Run King Misses First Day Of Training, Coogan Impresses

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Pirate home run king Ralph Kiner was ready to see action today, after watching the opening of spring training yesterday in San Bernardino from the sidelines.

Kiner has been suffering with hay fever for several weeks, but will begin training today. He was impressed by Dale Coogan, 19-year-old first base sensation, as the young player hit one over right field.

Chambers Arrives

Cliff Chambers made his appearance last night after arriving from his home in Washington state. He said he "feels great and it won't take me long to get in condition" for the baseball season.

Pirate officials said more than 15 balls were hit over the wall yesterday with Wally Westlake running up the Pirate's expense account with seven.

Duquesne Adds Hast As Aide

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Duquesne University today added Bob Hast, North Catholic high school's new football coach, to its training staff.

Hast will be one of six aides, when the Dukes open spring training March 21.

Section 24 All-Stars Selected By Coaches

Section 24 All-Star team has been selected by the coaches of the section. Every coach in the WPIAL Class B loop has voted for members for a first and second team, with no coach naming any of his own players.

The results have been totalled with two points being awarded for a first team berth and one point for a second team position. Results of the poll are:

First Team Player	Pos.	Second Team Player
Don Schena, Wampum	F	Bob Anderson, Bessemer
Tom Hutchinson, New Wil.	F	Bob Smith, East Brook
Bud Mayberry, East Brook	C	Bob McKinley, Mt. Jackson
Albert Armotorio, Wampum	G	Bill Pontius, East Brook
Caesar Craine, Wampum	G	Arsen Ross, Union
Pat Kerr, Mt. Jackson	F	Bill Getchy, Shenango

Positions on the team are inter-changeable, with the coaches often selecting a guard for a forward position and vice versa. All of the votes for first team were counted as first team votes regardless of position and the positions listed are arbitrary on the part of the News.

Six players were included in both teams because of the closeness of the voting. The highest number of points compiled by any first team player was 12—the maximum—and the lowest was nine.

The highest number of votes compiled by any second team player was seven and the lowest was four.

Two players—Don Schena and Tom Hutchinson — received six first team votes. Albert Armotorio, Caesar Craine and Bud Mayberry each received four first team votes. Pat Kerr received three.

Bob Smith, Arsen Ross and Bill Pontius received two first team votes apiece. Ralph Manzo and Bill Getchy each received one.

Bob Anderson was given six second team forward votes, while Bob McKinley was given four second team votes. Other players, not named on either the first or second team, that received second team votes are Ed McCowin, Walt McGinnis, Johnny Allen, Pete Barber, Wilson Blake and Paul Johnson.

Pep Signs For Title Defense

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Willie Pep Tuesday came to terms for defense of his world featherweight championship against Ray Famechon, European title-holder, in a 15-round match at Madison Square Garden on March 17.

In announcing that the match had been closed, the International Boxing club also revealed that Pep will receive 40 per cent of the receipts and that Famechon will fight for only 10 per cent, which will be left in escrow binding a return match if the Frenchman wins.

Pirates Facing Spirited Fights For Team Berths

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 2.—(INS)—Manager Bill Meyer noted a contrast in spirit between this season's Pittsburgh Pirates and the 1949 edition as spring training opened in San Bernardino.

"We will have a fighting team this year," Meyer said. "Last season too many players were confident of their positions as they reported for spring training.

"It's a different story this season. There will be a spirited fight for several positions including first base."

Joe Bach Will Coach 'Bonnies

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Joe Bach, line coach for the professional New York Bulldogs, was signed today as head football coach at St. Bonaventure.

Bach succeeds Hugh Devore, who resigned to become coach of New York University's eleven.

Ted Collins, owner of the Bulldogs, said that Bach was released from his 1950 contract following a telephone request by the Rev Juvenal Lalor of St. Bonaventure's.

Television may or may not have started the sudden nation-wide wrestling boom, but the truth is that manly muscles have not had so much feminine admiration since the days of the Roman gladiators.

Comeback Try

Two Shipments Of Trout Due On March 9-10

Little Neshannock And Slippery Rock To Be Stocked First

Pennsylvania State Fish Commission is sending its first consignment of trout to Lawrence County March 9, according to Fish Warden Clinton B. White.

Two thousand rainbows will arrive at 11 a. m. March 9 at New Wilmington for the Little Neshannock and at 11:15 a. m. March 10 another shipment of 4,000 brown trout will arrive at Ramblers Rest, Slippery Rock Creek, for the Slippery Rock.

Mr. White said today he would like fishermen to assist in the stocking.

Villanova Grid Card Announced

(International News Service)

VILLANOVA, Pa., March 2.—Villanova College announced its 1950 football schedule today, which included Louisiana State University as a newcomer.

The Wildcats will meet LSU at Baton Rouge, La., in a night game Nov. 23.

Coach Jim Leonard's team also will meet Duquesne, Tulsa, Boston College, Georgetown, the University of Detroit, St. Mary's, Miami and the University of Kentucky.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Budd Fleeger, Red Mitchell, et. al. are hoping for moderate weather so they can sucker fish. . . . There will be few bodies of water in Lawrence county where sucker fishing will be permitted March 15-April 15. One river is the Shenango, a stream which should be cleansed. Years ago it contained all species of fish. . . . Frank Clark, chief of police, Bessemer, is a former boxer. . . . Jack Reider and Fred Shaffer will be on the alert this summer for prospects in both City and County circuits. . . . It is probable that "Rosy" White, retiring fish warden, will be replaced by a warden from one of the hatcheries. . . . Cecil Suber put in many spare hours during the winter tying some nice trout spinner flies. . . . No far as known, no one has caught the "Grandfather of trout" at the Cinder hole in the Neshannock creek. . . . George Bolinger, delegate to the northwest division, State Federation of Sportsmen, made a spech at the federation meeting in Harrisburg is which he urged the fish commission to increase the pay of wardens. . . . Harry Flinner likes to eat his fish fresh. While with the bluecoat some years ago he caught some bass in the Neshannock creek, cleaned and fried them and ate them along the creek. . . . Gypsy Joe and Pierre La Belle have a mat date for one week from Friday night in The Arena. It will be the Gypsy's first appearance here against the squatty, but durable Flying Frenchman. . . . Andy Pzenny, the ex-cop, didn't forget his old cronies during the Clendenin blaze. He was one who served coffee and sandwiches. . . . The fact that Billy Pozza has offered to fight Rizieri Ronzi any time, and at any place, has made him more popular than ever and a fairly good crowd will see him exchange punches with Johnny Clements, a "run o'the mine heavyweight" Friday night.

Joe Lane Paces Junior Section With 150 Points

Joe Lane, George Washington Junior High School, led all Section 17 Junior WPIAL players in scoring for the 1950 season with 150 points.

Carmen Russo, of Mahoning, came through in fifth place with 97 points and Steve Tarnoci, of Franklin, was one point behind with 96.

Lane compiled his league leading total from 54 field goals and 42 fouls. His highest single game total was 19 against Union on February 3.

White Explains New Fish Law To Protectors

Wardens Do Not Like Law As Now Written

Seventy two fish and game protectors, and deputies, of Venango, Mercer and Lawrence counties, following a chicken dinner in New Wilmington Grange hall Tuesday night, heard Fish Protector Clinton B. White, who has tendered his resignation, explain the new fish law, concerning sucker fishing in trout stocked streams.

In brief, Mr. White warned: "Do not fish in, nor seine minnows from any stream, creek or run stocked with trout, during the March 15-April 15 period. It is legal to fish and take minnows from a pond, lake or river, excepting along that portion of a river where trout have been stocked, and which is posted."

Ed. Fritz, Sports Editor of The News, took a poll of the 72, asking: "Do you favor the law concerning sucker fishing in trout stocked streams, as the law is written?"

The fish and game wardens, and deputies unanimously voted negatively.

It is believed that it was the intent of the legislators to prevent fishing for suckers in that portions of streams stocked with trout, but they put a ban on the entire stream.

Millard Crooks, publicity agent for Division F, Game commission, of Oil City, said, in his opinion, this was caused by the heavy expense which would be necessary to post the stocked stream, every 50 feet.

Mr. White, familiarly known as "Rosy" was highly praised for his efficiency and courtesy during the past 12 years, and there was read a letter from State Commissioner of fisheries Charles A. French, in which he highly commended Mr. White and said he regretfully accepted the resignation, and wished Mr. White success in the future.

Brief addresses were made by George Sprankle, Millard Crooks, Ralph Flaugh, Sheriff Frank Coen and Wendell Wilson, the latter a land-owner.

Rifle Club Will See Demonstration

The Colonel Charles Young rifle club will meet at the Shenango Y tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of seeing movies and a demonstration of the care and operation of the US caliber 30 M-I grand rifle. The meeting is open to all who care to attend.

Verda Smith Jr. Punting Champion

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Verda T. Smith, Jr., Los Angeles Rams freshman, ran off with the punt return championship of the National Football league last season.

Smith, former Abilene, Tex., sprinter, ran back 27 punts for a total of 427 yards, averaging 15.8 yards. John Cochran of the Chicago Cards, was second with 15 for 314 yards and a 20.9 average.

Optimist Tournament Continuing Tonight With Three More Games

K. Pulaskis defeated the Shenango Y, 48-37, East Brook Boosters edged Universal 30-29 and the Wampum Merchants topped Temp's 55-32 in opening games of the Optimist tournament at George Washington junior high school last night.

The Pulaskis built up an early lead against the Shenango YMCA and were never threatened. Shenango was ahead at only one point and that was at the very beginning of the game when Taylor put in a foul shot to make the score 1-0.

At one point in the middle of the second quarter the Pulaskis held a 25-6 lead. Joe Lane and Charley Alexander helped whittle it down to 27-15 at half-time, however.

The second half was just about even but the KP's early lead was plenty to carry them through.

Boosters Win

The East Brook Boosters just barely nosed out the Universal Pottery in the evening's most exciting game. The Boosters held the lead from early in the second period to the end of the game, but a late Universal rally almost reversed the situation.

Two Field goals by Don Watters and one by Irv Carlson brought the score from 30-22 to 30-28 with three minutes left. In the last three minutes the defenses of both teams tightened up and Watters' foul shot was the only point scored.

With the clock running out the Boosters elected to take a foul out of bounds. Pete Razzano intercepted a pass and got off one last shot—but missed—as the game ended.

Wampum Merchants had little trouble with Tempy's once they got the feel of the floor. Tempy's came up with a lineup of old-timers that showed Buss Straussbaugh, Joey Cooper, Sammy Caiazza and Nick Gennock.

The Merchants worked better together, however, and gradually wore the Tempy veterans down.

Tonight's Games

Tonight's action finds the Business college and the Mt. Jackson Indies meeting at seven o'clock. Hank A. C. playing the Bessemer Indies at eight, and St. Mary's versus Princeton at nine.

That Hank A. C.-Bessemer clash stacks up as one of the best in the tournament. The Hanks boast the best record in the county with 28 wins in 30 games, their latest coming last night in the third round of the Courtland, O., tournament.

Bessemer's record is not quite as good as the Hank's but in recent weeks the Indies have been one of the hottest teams in the county. Last week they dumped the KP's 63-56.

Knickerbockers Defeat Bullets

(By International News Service)

The New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association clinched second place in the eastern division last night by walloping the Baltimore Bullets, their favorite cousins, 82 to 76, for their fourth straight victory.

Syracuse, the eastern leader, snapped out of its slump by crushing Waterloo, 93 to 72. Other results:

Westminster Invited To NAIB Tournament At Kansas City

Almost Assured Titans Will Accept Bid Friday

Westminster college's tall Titans have received a bid to the National Association Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, March 13 through the 18th, it was revealed by head floor coach and Athletic Director "Pappy" Washabaugh at the college last night.

Acceptance by Westminster (21 and 2) of the bid is but a matter of formality which will come Friday, it is strongly indicated.

Conference Friday

Washabaugh has scheduled a conference with Ross Ellis, Westminster business manager for Friday at which time the various details of the trip to the mid-west metropolis will be discussed pro and con.

The Titans meet four opponents on the regular 1949-50 card before they entrain for Kansas City—meeting Carnegie Tech at home Saturday night, then hit the road for a game Monday at Franklin-Marshall, Tuesday at Millersville and Wednesday at Bucknell. The Titans could windup with a 25 an 2 record if they win the remainder.

Harbored Garden Hope

It is no secret that Westminster has harbored a hope for a bid to the National Invitation at Madison Square Garden, but will likely welcome the bid to the Kansas City tourney. The bid to La Salle and Duquesne to the Gardens will no doubt leave the Titans out at New York, as that makes two Pennsylvania teams already invited.

Other schools invited to the Kansas City tourney at this writing are: Hamline, the defending champions; Brooklyn; Murray State Teachers, of Kentucky; Arkansas Poly; Oklahoma East Central State, and Kalamazoo.

Hank A.C. Advances In Ohio Tournament

Hank A. C. advanced to the quarter-finals in the Courtland, O., tournament last night by defeating Middlefield, O., 39-34 in a third round game.

The Hank's were leading 19-15 at the end of the half but were trailing 29-26 at the end of the third frame. A rally in the final minutes of play gave the Hank's the win.

Harp Janacone was high for the locals with 17 points. Wayne Gray had 11. Gooding, of Middlefield had 14. They play again in the tournament next Wednesday.

Wampum Juniors Win At Struthers; Enter Semi-Finals Tonight

Wampum junior high school defeated Niles Washington junior high 51-48 in the quarter finals of the Struthers Junior High tournament last night.

The Indian Juniors jumped off to a 22-9 lead in the first quarter and were able to hang on to the lead, though Niles outscored them in every period from then on.

The losers had four players over the six-foot mark and were one of the pre-tournament favorites. They had lost only one game this season up until last night and had defeated every major junior high team in Mahoning county.

Tournament Dark Horse

The victory makes Wampum the real dark horse of the tournament. Butler Hennon's little boys weren't expected to go far against the best junior highs in the district by most tournament officials.

Ron Buccelli and John Swoggers paced the Indian Juniors in scoring with 12 points apiece, followed by Don Hennon with 11. Collins was high for Niles with 17.

Wampum meets Salem in a semi-final game tonight beginning at 7:30. Salem eliminated McDonald, Girard and Alliance Frosh to gain the semi-finals.

The winner of this game will meet the winner of the Memorial-Hayes game for the championship Friday night. The losers of these two games will meet in a consolation game before the championship game.

Arizin Boasts Scoring Mark

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Paul Arizin, Villanova College center, boasted a new major college single season scoring record today with a total of 649 points.

Arizin scored 33 points as Villanova recorded an impressive 82-62 win over Toledo's highly-rated basketball five at the Penn Palestra last night.

The former mark, 636 points, was hung up by Yale's Tony Lavelli last season.

In the opener of a double-header, Columbia University nosed out the University of Pennsylvania, 50-47, in an eastern intercollegiate league game.

Ohio State Gets Invite To NCAA

CHICAGO, Mar. 2. — (INS)—Ohio State's basketball team, winner of the Big Ten title, was selected Tuesday to represent district four in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual championship tournament.

The high scoring Buckeye squad which swept through a rough western conference schedule with a record of 11 victories and one defeat, will play in the Eastern Regional Tournament at New York on March 23 and 25. The Western tournament will be played in Kansas City on March 24-25.

The championship game will be played in New York on March 28.

Only other team thus far selected for the NCAA meet in undefeated Holy Cross of Boston, representing District 1.

Ohio State's over-all season record was 19 victories and three defeats.

Pozza-Clements Battle Friday In Ellwood Ring

Frankie Moran To Fight Dave Pinto

Dolled up, physically and mentally, Billy Pozza, who has seldom been vanquished, and Johnny Clements, "run o' the mine" fighter of Dayton, have ended training for their heavyweight bout docketed for eight rounds in the Ellwood City high school gymnasium Friday night. The card is braced by Frankie Moran, New Castle slugger, who tackles Dave Pinto in a welterweight six-round semi-final whirl.

Clements is no Jackie Lyons, but is said to hold a decision over Tommy Woodward, who suffered a technical knockout, aided by a cut above an eye, when he boxed the "Ellwood Belter" some weeks ago in Ellwood City.

Having reconsidered his intention to quit the fight game, Moran has "worked himself" into the "pink", and hopes to land either left or right to the chin for a knockout.

George (Buster) Smith, who fought once in the Arena here, will exchange 170-pound wallops against Chuck Davis of Johnstown in a five-round bout.

There will be two four-rounders as follows:

Billy Parker, Monaca, vs Wally Hally, Johnstown, at 155, and Little Chief, Columbus, against Eddie Marsh, Altoona, at 126.

The Loccisano brothers are promoting the fistic attraction for the Lions club which is keeping boxing alive in this district.

The Lions believe they have a good attraction because Pozza is popular, and more so since he offered to take on Rizieri Ronzi of Youngstown at any time and anywhere.

The Jefferson A. C. of New Castle holds a contract for them to fight but because of Ronzi's alleged lethargy in going through with the match, may forget it and toss the fight document into the waste basket if his manager, one Chiclo, doesn't agree to the match soon.

Kiner Will See Action Today

Home Run King Misses First Day Of Training, Coogan Impresses

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Pirate home run king Ralph Kiner was ready to see action today, after watching the opening of spring training yesterday in San Bernardino from the sidelines.

Kiner has been suffering with hay fever for several weeks, but will begin training today. He was impressed by Dale Coogan, 19-year-old first base sensation, as the young player hit one over right field.

Chambers Arrives

Cliff Chambers made his appearance last night after arriving from his home in Washington state. He said he "feels great and it won't take me long to get in condition" for the baseball season.

Pirate officials said more than 15 balls were hit over the wall yesterday with Wally Westlake running up the Pirate's expense account with seven.

Duquesne Adds Hast As Aide

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Duquesne University today added Bob Hast, North Catholic high school's new football coach, to its training staff.

Hast will be one of six aides, when the Dukes open spring training March 21.

Section 24 All-Stars Selected By Coaches

Section 24 All-Star team has been selected by the coaches of the section. Every coach in the WPIAL Class B loop has voted for members for a first and second team, with no coach naming any of his own players.

The results have been totalled with two points being awarded for a first team berth and one point for a second team position. Results of the poll are:

First Team Player	Pos.	Second Team Player
Don Schena, Wampum	F	Bob Anderson, Bessemer
Tom Hutchinson, New Wil.	F	Bob Smith, East Brook
Bud Mayberry, East Brook	C	Bob McKinley, Mt. Jackson
Albert Armotorio, Wampum	G	Bill Pontius, East Brook
Caesar Craine, Wampum	G	Arsen Ross, Union
Pat Kerr, Mt. Jackson	F	Bill Getchy, Shenango

Positions on the team are inter-changeable, with the coaches often selecting a guard for a forward position and vice versa. All of the votes for first team were counted as first team votes regardless of position and the positions listed are arbitrary on the part of the News.

Six players were included in both teams because of the closeness of the voting. The highest number of points compiled by any first team player was 12—the maximum—and the lowest was nine.

The highest number of votes compiled by any second team player was seven and the lowest was four.

Two players—Don Schena and Tom Hutchinson — received six first team votes. Albert Armotorio, Caesar Craine and Bud Mayberry each received four first team votes. Pat Kerr received three.

Bob Smith, Arsen Ross and Bill Pontius received two first team votes apiece. Ralph Manzo and Bill Getchy each received one.

Bob Anderson was given six second team forward votes, while Bob McKinley was given four second team votes. Other players, not named on either the first or second team, that received second team votes are Ed McCowin, Walt McGinnis, Johnny Allen, Pete Barber, Wilson Blake and Paul Johnson.

Pep Signs For Title Defense

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Willie Pep Tuesday came to terms for defense of his world featherweight championship against Ray Famechon, European title-holder, in a 15-round match at Madison Square Garden on March 17.

In announcing that the match had been closed, the International Boxing club also revealed that Pep will receive 40 per cent of the receipts and that Famechon will fight for only 10 per cent, which will be left in escrow binding a return match if the Frenchman wins.

Pirates Facing Spirited Fights For Team Berths

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 2.—(INS)—Manager Bill Meyer noted a contrast in spirit between this season's Pittsburgh Pirates and the 1949 edition as spring training opened in San Bernardino.

"We will have a fighting team this year," Meyer said. "Last season too many players were confident of their positions as they reported for spring training.

"It's a different story this season. There will be a spirited fight for several positions including first base."

Joe Bach Will Coach 'Bonnies

NEW YORK, Mar. 2.—(INS)—Joe Bach, line coach for the professional New York Bulldogs, was signed today as head football coach at St. Bonaventure.

Bach succeeds Hugh Devore, who resigned to become coach of New York University's eleven.

Ted Collins, owner of the Bulldogs, said that Bach was released from his 1950 contract following a telephone request by the Rev Juvenal Lalor of St. Bonaventure's.

Television may or may not have started the sudden nation-wide wrestling boom, but the truth is that manly muscles have not had so much feminine admiration since the days of the Roman gladiators.

White Explains New Fish Law To Protectors

Wardens Do Not Like Law As Now Written

Seventy two fish and game protectors, and deputies, of Venango, Mercer and Lawrence counties, following a chicken dinner in New Wilmington Grange hall Tuesday night, heard Fish Protector Clinton B. White, who has tendered his resignation, explain the new fish law, concerning sucker fishing in trout stocked streams.

In brief, Mr. White warned: "Do not fish in, nor seine minnows from any stream, creek or run stocked with trout, during the March 15-April 15 period. It is legal to fish and take minnows from a pond, lake or river, excepting along that portion of a river where trout have been stocked, and which is posted."

Ed. Fritz, Sports Editor of The News, took a poll of the 72, asking: "Do you favor the law concerning sucker fishing in trout stocked streams, as the law is written?"

The fish and game wardens, and deputies unanimously voted negatively.

It is believed that it was the intent of the legislators to prevent fishing for suckers in that portions of streams stocked with trout, but they put a ban on the entire stream.

Millard Crooks, publicity agent for Division F, Game commission, of Oil City, said, in his opinion, this was caused by the heavy expense which would be necessary to post the stocked stream, every 50 feet.

Mr. White, familiarly known as "Rosy" was highly praised for his efficiency and courtesy during the past 12 years, and there was read a letter from State Commissioner of fisheries Charles A. French, in which he highly commended Mr. White and said he regretfully accepted the resignation, and wished Mr. White success in the future.

Brief addresses were made by George Sprankle, Millard Crooks, Ralph Flaugh, Sheriff Frank Coen and Wendell Wilson, the latter a land-owner.

Rifle Club Will See Demonstration

The Colonel Charles Young rifle club will meet at the Shenango Y tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of seeing movies and a demonstration of the care and operation of the US caliber 30 M-I grand rifle. The meeting is open to all who care to attend.

Verda Smith Jr. Punting Champion

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Verda T. Smith, Jr., Los Angeles Rams freshman, ran off with the punt return championship of the National Football league last season.

Smith, former Abilene, Tex., sprinter, ran back 27 punts for a total of 427 yards, averaging 15.8 yards. John Cochran of the Chicago Cards, was second with 15 for 314 yards and a 20.9 average.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Budd Fleeger, Red Mitchell, et. al. are hoping for moderate weather so they can sucker fish. . . . There will be few bodies of water in Lawrence county where sucker fishing will be permitted March 15-April 15. One river is the Shenango, a stream which should be cleansed. Years ago it contained all species of fish. . . . Frank Clark, chief of police, Bessemer, is a former boxer. . . . Jack Reider and Fred Shaffer will be on the alert this summer for prospects in both City and County circuits. . . . It is probable that "Rosy" White, retiring fish warden, will be replaced by a warden from one of the hatcheries. . . . Cecil Suber put in many spare hours during the winter tying some nice trout spinner flies. . . . No far as known, no one has caught the "Grandfather of trout" at the Cinder hole in the Neshannock creek. . . . George Bolinger, delegate to the northwest division, State Federation of Sportsmen, made a spech at the federation meeting in Harrisburg is which he urged the fish commission to increase the pay of wardens. . . . Harry Flinner likes to eat his fish fresh. While with the bluecoat some years ago he caught some bass in the Neshannock creek, cleaned and fried them and ate them along the creek. . . . Gypsy Joe and Pierre La Belle have a mat date for one week from Friday night in The Arena. It will be the Gypsy's first appearance here against the squatty, but durable Flying Frenchman. . . . Andy Pzenny, the ex-cop, didn't forget his old cronies during the Clendenin blaze. He was one who served coffee and sandwiches. . . . The fact that Billy Pozza has offered to fight Rizieri Ronzi any time, and at any place, has made him more popular than ever and a fairly good crowd will see him exchange punches with Johnny Clements, a "run o'the mine heavyweight" Friday night.

Optimist Tournament Continuing Tonight With Three More Games

K. Pulaskis defeated the Shenango Y, 48-37, East Brook Boosters edged Universal 30-29 and the Wampum Merchants topped Temp's 55-32 in opening games of the Optimist tournament at George Washington junior high school last night.

The Pulaskis built up an early lead against the Shenango YMCA and were never threatened. Shenango was ahead at only one point and that was at the very beginning of the game when Taylor put in a foul shot to make the score 1-0.

At one point in the middle of the second quarter the Pulaskis held a 25-6 lead. Joe Lane and Charley Alexander helped whittle it down to 27-15 at half-time, however.

The second half was just about even but the KP's early lead was plenty to carry them through.

Boosters Win

The East Brook Boosters just barely nosed out the Universal Pottery in the evening's most exciting game. The Boosters held the lead from early in the second period to the end of the game, but a late Universal rally almost reversed the situation.

Two Field goals by Don Watters and one by Irv Carlson brought the score from 30-22 to 30-28 with three minutes left. In the last three minutes the defenses of both teams tightened up and Watters' foul shot was the only point scored.

With the clock running out the Boosters elected to take a foul out of bounds. Pete Razzano intercepted a pass and got off one last shot—but missed—as the game ended.

Wampum Merchants had little trouble with Tempy's once they got the feel of the floor. Tempy's came up with a lineup of old-timers that showed Buss Strausbaugh, Joey Cooper, Sammy Caiazza and Nick Gennock.

The Merchants worked better together, however, and gradually wore the Tempy veterans down.

Tonight's Games

Tonight's action finds the Business college and the Mt. Jackson Indies meeting at seven o'clock. Hank A. C. playing the Bessemer Indies at eight, and St. Mary's versus Princeton at nine.

That Hank A. C.-Bessemer clash stacks up as one of the best in the tournament. The Hanks boast the best record in the county with 28 wins in 30 games, their latest coming last night in the third round of the Courtland, O., tournament.

Bessemer's record is not quite as good as the Hank's but in recent weeks the Indies have been one of the hottest teams in the county. Last week they dumped the KP's 63-56.

LaSalle Accepts Bid From NIBT

NEW YORK, March 2.—(INS)—La Salle College of Philadelphia Wednesday became the fourth team to accept a bid to the 12-team National Invitation Basketball tournament, the "world series" of the college cage game.

The post-season extravaganza begins at Madison Square Garden on March 11. Bradley, Duquesne and St. John's College of Brooklyn previously accepted invitations.

La Salle has won 18 of its 21 games this year under the coaching of Ken Loeffler.

Jordan Appointed As Harvard Coach

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 2.—(INS)—Lloyd P. Jordan of Amherst College Wednesday was appointed football coach at Harvard University.

The 49-year-old director of athletics for the Lord Jeffs succeeds Art Valpey. Valpey resigned recently to take over the football coaching job at Connecticut State University.

Pittsburgh hasn't been able to sign Chandnois, who has resorted to all the gimmicks favored by college stars seeking more dough. Lynn's original pact with Cleveland assured him a $1,000 bonus and $9,000 more to run, block and pass for the Browns during the 1950 season.

More than 250,000 women of all sizes and shapes have jammed their way into Chicago wrestling arenas in the past six months to hoot and holler for their heroes and hiss and boo for the villains.

That Williams' salary is greater than Ruth's ($80,000) or Cobb's $60,000 plus) in their heyday is not only a mark of the times, but a compliment to his own great skill as slugger and hitter.

NEED SOUND FOUNDATIONS FOR SUCCESSFUL LIVING

All kinds of early experiences play a part in shaping personality, but how one feels about being a man or being a woman often determines the success or failure of marriage. The kinds of childhood experiences one has affects attitudes toward one's own and the opposite sex, says Miss Marguerite Little, extension specialist in child development and family life of the Pennsylvania State college. She explains that education for marriage begins the day the baby is born, for as soon as he is cared for affectionately, he discovers the existence of love. He learns that people are nice to be with; that they make him feel good.

One of the foundations on which a satisfying marriage is based is the realization that both men and women make valuable contributions to our world. Both are important. The four-year-old girl announces, "We're going to play house. You be the father. I'll be the mother. Girls are always mothers Boys are always fathers." She has learned and has accepted herself as a future woman with the ability of being a mother. Some children are confused. They may think that sex is a matter of choice. It is the wise parent who makes his child feel that it is all right to be a boy or a girl and that he is satisfied and happy to have him be what he is. A person has a much better chance of being happy in marriage if he feels comfortable in his role as a man or a woman, believe Miss Little.

If an atmosphere of warmth and joy prevails in daily life, children tend to absorb that feeling. They learn from living in a happy home that marriage can be full of satisfactions.

Every child needs a home where he knows that his mother and father love each other, and he needs to feel that he is wanted and loved by his parents.

TREE MEMORIAL

ATHENS—(INS)—Cypress trees will in years to come adorn the spot where one of the most famous battles of ancient Greek history was fought some two and a half milleniums ago. Modern Greeks have decided to plant 300 cypresses at Thermopylae to commemorate the heroic stand of one of their most celebrated ancestors, General Leonidas. With 300 Spartan soldiers, he withstood the onslaught of the Persian invader Xerxes and his hordes and saved Greece from slavery.

New York Stocks

Market Firmer Tone Continues

NEW YORK, March 2—(INS)—Stock prices today continued the firmer tone which appeared in trading late yesterday. Though volume totaled only 270,000 shares in the first hour, most leaders favored the upside fractionally.

Studebaker featured motors with a rise of more than a half point to 28⅜. Santa Fe poked fractionally higher in the rails but averagewise the group was shaded by small losses in C. & O., N.Y. Central and Southern Pacific.

Steels were dealt in blocks up to 4,000 shares in early trading but made little headway pricewise. Chemicals pushed higher with Allied Chemical up ¾. Airlines were irregular.

Members of the Pollock Parent-Teachers' Association met in the school library at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening Mrs. Rose Buonpane opened the meeting by reading the P.T.A. prayer, followed by the secretary's report by Mrs. John George.

Business was conducted by the president, Orlando Lucidore, who handed out several P.T.A. pamphlets to the group. New National Parent-Teacher magazines are to be ordered for the school. The unit's constitution was read by the president, citing the objects, purposes, dues, and duties of officers.

April's hospitality committee will consist of Mrs. John Esposito, chairman, Mrs. Anthony Ginocchi, Mrs. Mike Fornataro, Miss Pearl Hilliard, Micc Margaret Lowery, Mrs. Frank Cassella, Mrs. Nick Panella, Miss Hazel Grossman, Mrs. Mike Rozak, Miss Ruth Weir, and Mrs. Andy Tommello.

Committees Named

A nominating committee has been selected for the coming election of officers, and will be composed of Mrs. Mildred Rosenberg, Mrs. Nick Panella, and Mrs. Lombardo.

A street paving committee is named, consisting of Mrs. Mary Sands, John Esposito, Felix Mele, Anthony Ginocchi, and John Ambrosia.

A coffee urn is to be bought by the unit, and it will be available for the next meeting. The evening's door prize was won by Mrs. Concetta Leonardo. Miss Janet Milson's first grade won the treat for the room representation.

A short, clever skit was presented under the direction of Mrs. Mary Sands, with Lena Mastrangelo and Bernice Dellaverson taking part.

An interesting, informative film on the Red Cross was shown by Orlando Lucidore, showing the work done by the Red Cross in several emergencies.

Samuel Rashid, active in several civic organizations and chairman of twenty-five counties which make up the Community Service to Camps and Hospitals, spoke on the work of the Red Cross. "The P.T.A.," stated Mr. Rashid, "is the most American thing in America today, for through the P.T.A. so many new ideas and facilities can be had for the children of our schools."

"The seeds of the Red Cross were first noted in 1859 when Napoleon III was in Italy. A Swiss, Henri Dunnant, seeing the agony and suffering of the people formed what we know as the Red Cross. The Swiss flag was the symbol, with the colors reversed. In 1882, with President Arthur in office, the Geneva Peace Treaty was signed, increasing the importance of the Red Cross."

Many Services

"Several services were given during the first World War, but it was during our recent conflict that the organization became wholly recognized. It must be prepared to serve at all times, for a community may meet disasters at any time—whether God or man-made."

"There are so many different agencies in our local chapter, that few people realize just what they are. For example, the Junior Red Cross made over four thousand favors at Christmas for the hospitals. Nearly one thousand gifts were prepared for overseas. The Gray-Ladies render many services to our forgotten servicemen, writing letters and doing acts of kindness. "A strong community makes a

All kinds of early experiences play a part in shaping personality, but how one feels about being a man or being a woman often determines the success or failure of marriage. The kinds of childhood experiences one has affects attitudes toward one's own and the opposite sex, says Miss Marguerite Little, extension specialist in child development and family life of the Pennsylvania State college. She explains that education for marriage begins the day the baby is born, for as soon as he is cared for affectionately, he discovers the existence of love. He learns that people are nice to be with; that they make him feel good.

One of the foundations on which a satisfying marriage is based is the realization that both men and women make valuable contributions to our world. Both are important. The four-year-old girl announces, "We're going to play house. You be the father. I'll be the mother. Girls are always mothers Boys are always fathers." She has learned and has accepted herself as a future woman with the ability of being a mother. Some children are confused. They may think that sex is a matter of choice. It is the wise parent who makes his child feel that it is all right to be a boy or a girl and that he is satisfied and happy to have him be what he is. A person has a much better chance of being happy in marriage if he feels comfortable in his role as a man or a woman, believe Miss Little.

If an atmosphere of warmth and joy prevails in daily life, children tend to absorb that feeling. They learn from living in a happy home that marriage can be full of satisfactions.

Every child needs a home where he knows that his mother and father love each other, and he needs to feel that he is wanted and loved by his parents.

TREE MEMORIAL

ATHENS—(INS)—Cypress trees will in years to come adorn the spot where one of the most famous battles of ancient Greek history was fought some two and a half milleniums ago. Modern Greeks have decided to plant 300 cypresses at Thermopylae to commemorate the heroic stand of one of their most celebrated ancestors, General Leonidas. With 300 Spartan soldiers, he withstood the onslaught of the Persian invader Xerxes and his hordes and saved Greece from slavery.

Market Firmer Tone Continues

NEW YORK, March 2—(INS)—Stock prices today continued the firmer tone which appeared in trading late yesterday. Though volume totaled only 270,000 shares in the first hour, most leaders favored the upside fractionally.

Studebaker featured motors with a rise of more than a half point to 28⅜. Santa Fe poked fractionally higher in the rails but averagewise the group was shaded by small losses in C. & O., N.Y. Central and Southern Pacific.

Steels were dealt in blocks up to 4,000 shares in early trading but made little headway pricewise. Chemicals pushed higher with Allied Chemical up ¾. Airlines were irregular.

Members of the Pollock Parent-Teachers' Association met in the school library at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening Mrs. Rose Buonpane opened the meeting by reading the P.T.A. prayer, followed by the secretary's report by Mrs. John George.

Business was conducted by the president, Orlando Lucidore, who handed out several P.T.A. pamphlets to the group. New National Parent-Teacher magazines are to be ordered for the school. The unit's constitution was read by the president, citing the objects, purposes, dues, and duties of officers.

April's hospitality committee will consist of Mrs. John Esposito, chairman, Mrs. Anthony Ginocchi, Mrs. Mike Fornataro, Miss Pearl Hilliard, Micc Margaret Lowery, Mrs. Frank Cassella, Mrs. Nick Panella, Miss Hazel Grossman, Mrs. Mike Rozak, Miss Ruth Weir, and Mrs. Andy Tommello.

Committees Named

A nominating committee has been selected for the coming election of officers, and will be composed of Mrs. Mildred Rosenberg, Mrs. Nick Panella, and Mrs. Lombardo.

A street paving committee is named, consisting of Mrs. Mary Sands, John Esposito, Felix Mele, Anthony Ginocchi, and John Ambrosia.

A coffee urn is to be bought by the unit, and it will be available for the next meeting. The evening's door prize was won by Mrs. Concetta Leonardo. Miss Janet Milson's first grade won the treat for the room representation.

A short, clever skit was presented under the direction of Mrs. Mary Sands, with Lena Mastrangelo and Bernice Dellaverson taking part.

An interesting, informative film on the Red Cross was shown by Orlando Lucidore, showing the work done by the Red Cross in several emergencies.

Samuel Rashid, active in several civic organizations and chairman of twenty-five counties which make up the Community Service to Camps and Hospitals, spoke on the work of the Red Cross. "The P.T.A.," stated Mr. Rashid, "is the most American thing in America today, for through the P.T.A. so many new ideas and facilities can be had for the children of our schools."

Sees Major Revolution In American Higher Education

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, newly-elected president of Pennsylvania State College, believes that a major revolution is underway in American higher education.

Eisenhower told the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association's 41st annual dinner that educators are seeking to develop "an educational experience that will help build minds capable of contributing constructively to the solution of problems caused by modern interdependence".

"If our modern situation requires anything from the educated man and woman," he declared, "it requires a mind that is broad, trained in critical thinking, tolerant in judgment, skilled in creative enterprise, and dedicated to democratic principles.

"Every citizen has a right to expect that our educational institutions will contribute directly and effectively to the Democratic system which maintains them".

Eisenhower, who will retire as president of Kansas State College to accept the Penn State post, said that American education has lagged behind social adjustments caused by advancing technology.

Cultural Lag

"By far the most awesome example of cultural lag is our complete ignorance of the proposed hydrogen bomb—itself a climax of research and social organization which can literally destroy the very developments which brought it into being," he added.

The brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower cited these five goals of education:

1. Specialized training for the making of a living or of a home.
2. Achievement by each student of an understanding of all the broad fields of knowledge.
3. Development of the skills of communication—the knowledge of how to read, write, speak and listen.
4. The fostering of wisdom, or the development of the capacity for sound judgments.
5. An abiding commitment to the democratic way of life, based on understanding.

Even with bumper crops, farmers cannot afford to lose grain to insects, rats, or other pests. J. O. Pepper, Penn State extension entomologist, recommends the use of control practices. Ask your county agent for detailed information.

Ecclesian Cub Scouts Observe Birthday Event

Fortieth anniversary of scouting was fittingly observed by Ecclesian Pack 50 Cub Scouts on a recent afternoon, with Rev. Fr. Edwin H. Hoppel, spiritual director, opening with prayer, in club rooms.

The regular business meeting was conducted by Cubmaster W. Hubert Cummings with the committee den mothers and fathers and parents of the cubs present.

A social hour followed, and tables were attractively decorated for the occasion with the cub scout colors. A four-tiered cake, synthetically lighted with electric candles topped with a doll attired as cub scout, centered the speakers table. The cake was the work of the cubmaster and den fathers.

Each den made a smaller synthetic cake for its table, using the cub scout insignia and crusade theme, which was also carried out in place cards.

The crusade torch was lighted by Cub Jimmy Adams.

Refreshments in keeping with a birthday celebration were served by the den mothers.

The blue and gold handclasp game was played and enjoyed by the parents. An inter-den contest was featured, experimenting upon whom could make the gloomiest or happiest faces. America sung by the assembly closed the program. The next cub meeting will be in March.

Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest man to become President of the United States, being but 42 years of age at the death of McKinley. He was also the youngest man to be elected, being 46 at that time.

Sees Major Revolution In American Higher Education

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—(INS)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, newly-elected president of Pennsylvania State College, believes that a major revolution is underway in American higher education.

Eisenhower told the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association's 41st annual dinner that educators are seeking to develop "an educational experience that will help build minds capable of contributing constructively to the solution of problems caused by modern interdependence".

"If our modern situation requires anything from the educated man and woman," he declared, "it requires a mind that is broad, trained in critical thinking, tolerant in judgment, skilled in creative enterprise, and dedicated to democratic principles.

"Every citizen has a right to expect that our educational institutions will contribute directly and effectively to the Democratic system which maintains them".

Eisenhower, who will retire as president of Kansas State College to accept the Penn State post, said that American education has lagged behind social adjustments caused by advancing technology.

Cultural Lag

"By far the most awesome example of cultural lag is our complete ignorance of the proposed hydrogen bomb—itself a climax of research and social organization which can literally destroy the very developments which brought it into being," he added.

The brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower cited these five goals of education:

1. Specialized training for the making of a living or of a home.
2. Achievement by each student of an understanding of all the broad fields of knowledge.
3. Development of the skills of communication—the knowledge of how to read, write, speak and listen.
4. The fostering of wisdom, or the development of the capacity for sound judgments.
5. An abiding commitment to the democratic way of life, based on understanding.

Even with bumper crops, farmers cannot afford to lose grain to insects, rats, or other pests. J. O. Pepper, Penn State extension entomologist, recommends the use of control practices. Ask your county agent for detailed information.

Ecclesian Cub Scouts Observe Birthday Event

Fortieth anniversary of scouting was fittingly observed by Ecclesian Pack 50 Cub Scouts on a recent afternoon, with Rev. Fr. Edwin H. Hoppel, spiritual director, opening with prayer, in club rooms.

The regular business meeting was conducted by Cubmaster W. Hubert Cummings with the committee den mothers and fathers and parents of the cubs present.

A social hour followed, and tables were attractively decorated for the occasion with the cub scout colors. A four-tiered cake, synthetically lighted with electric candles topped with a doll attired as cub scout, centered the speakers table. The cake was the work of the cubmaster and den fathers.

Each den made a smaller synthetic cake for its table, using the cub scout insignia and crusade theme, which was also carried out in place cards.

The crusade torch was lighted by Cub Jimmy Adams.

Refreshments in keeping with a birthday celebration were served by the den mothers.

The blue and gold handclasp game was played and enjoyed by the parents. An inter-den contest was featured, experimenting upon whom could make the gloomiest or happiest faces. America sung by the assembly closed the program. The next cub meeting will be in March.

Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest man to become President of the United States, being but 42 years of age at the death of McKinley. He was also the youngest man to be elected, being 46 at that time.
